STRUCK BY TROLLEY CAR.

CAMDEN (N. J.) July 31.—An automobile in which John A. Valentine, a well-known society man of Philadelphia, his wife and two friends were riding, was struck by a trolley car here early this morning. Mrs. Valentine sustained a fracture of the collar-bone and Mr. Valentine was cut and bruised about the head and face. They were taken to the Cooper Hospital. The other occupants of the automobile were not injured. Valentine is a noted whist player and is master of the Radnor Hunt Club of Bryn Mawr, near here.

BLAST FOR JEROME.

Tammany Trying to Discredit Him.

"Knock Him if We Can't Use Him" the Slogan of the Politicians.

Mayoralty Fight in Greater New York Warming up in Good Season.

Anti-Graft Platform Commends Itself to Anti's. "Mac's" Support.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tammany friends of Boss Murphy and Mayor McClellan say that District Attorney Jerome will not receive a nomination or indorsement from Tammany, no matter how much other strength he may develop in the municipal campaign. They regard Jerome's most recent arraignment of the Murphy-McClellan régime as placing him entirely outside the Tammany pale, and there will be a preconcerted effort from now on to discredit Jerome and his political associations.

Within the Citizens' Union, also, it is said, a certain element which had hoped to arrange a ticket with McClellan for Mayor and Jerome for District Attorney is disappointed, and is inclined to regard Jerome as "precipitate" and "inexpedient" in his recent utterances. In many other political circles, however, Jerome, it is realized, has hurled himself into the Mayoralty situation just when consideration is being given to the question of selecting a suitable anti-Tammany man to make the race against McClellan.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Jerome Mayoralty "boom" is developing, and that it may have to be reckoned with seriously. Certainly no other anti-Tammany man whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Mayoralty nomination is being discussed so generally as is Jerome.

An anti-graft platform, containing also an indorsement of municipal ownership, as distinguished from municipal operation, was spoken of today by the friends of Jerome as being a kind of declaration which, with Jerome's nomination for Mayor, would make one of the warmest campaigns this city ever saw.

Jerome's friends, it is said, are likely to sign a round-robin petition requesting him to become a Mayoralty candidate, and calling upon all independent anti-Tammany voters to rally to his support. No doubt was expressed that Jerome would yield to such a request and announce his candidacy with characteristic boldness.

Jerome's recent blast against Tammany's method of displacing good officials is generally regarded as a shrewd political move on his part to pave the way for the announcement of his candidacy for the Mayoralty. The Citizens' Union, it is pointed out by "practical politicians," has an opportunity to regain a prominent place in anti-Tammany conferences by swinging its banner out for Jerome for Mayor. The "Consolidated gas interests," however, will continue to support McClellan.

GOT HIS "LOCAL COLOR."

Hamlin Garland, the Author, Locked up for Three Hours in Colorado Penitentiary.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Locked in a cell in the State penitentiary near a man condemned to death, Hamlin Garland, the author, who was in search of color for a new story, got more of it than he wanted, for the turnkey was absentminded, and Garland did not get out for hours from a cell which he intended to occupy a few minutes.

The condemned man in the next cell cursed volubly, and once yelled to Garland: "What the hell are you in for? When are they going to stretch your neck?"

Garland arrived here a few days ago, and secured a letter from the El Paso County Sheriff to the Warden of the penitentiary at Cañon City. Arriving there yesterday, he had a prison supper, heard many stories of escapes and wild experiences, and then decided to spend some time in a cell. He was locked up in a dark one. After what seemed an interminable period, he was released by the turnkey, who frankly admitted that he had forgotten his voluntary prisoner.

Garland was in the cell three hours.

MECCA FOR WOMEN.

Iowa Has Forty-six Thousand More Males Than Females and There's Room for "Schoolmarms."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SIOUX CITY (Iowa) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Iowa promises to become a mecca for women since Director Davidson of the State Census Bureau has just announced that there are 46,000 more men than women in the State.

It is anticipated that there will be a general exodus to this State when the census figures are given publicity. If the women are capable of teaching school, they can find employment in this vocation while awaiting proposals of marriage, as there is an unparalleled dearth of "schoolmarms" in Iowa, and 162 schools have been compelled to close because of inability to obtain instructors. It is believed the figures compiled by the census director accounts for this shortage in school teachers.

BOSS MURPHY HAS CONTROL.

THE "WORLD" ADMITS HE CAN DO THINGS IN GOTHAM.

Question of Belmont and His Franchises is Not at Stake, but Issue of Clean Municipal Government as Opposed to Boss Rule is Squarely Put Forward.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Commenting at length on District Attorney Jerome's attack upon Mayor McClellan as a "subservient tool of Tammany Boss Murphy," the World this morning says:

"While Jerome was calling public attention to Charles F. Murphy's plan to appoint a former bartender chief clerk of one of New York's most important courts, McClellan gives another proof of his subserviency to the boss by conferring a high judicial appointment upon a man whose most conspicuous qualification for office is his relationship to the Tammany district leader.

"The Mayor himself cannot deny boss domination in the matter of appointments. It is doubly a pity that McClellan will not see the case in Jerome's light. Personally honest, a gentleman by inheritance and instinct, courteous and well educated, McClellan lacks only independence, backbone and a higher standard of self-respect to be a Mayor whom citizens of all political parties would cheerfully commend.

"What is McClellan's greatest weakness is conversely Jerome's greatest strength. When Mayor McClellan is meekly submitting to the dictation of Charles F. Murphy, Jerome, who is also a candidate for reelection, is not afraid to denounce Murphy publicly for interfering with the efficiency and general good management of the courts. How well McClellan might do this, if he had a little of Jerome's courage and would free himself from the Murphy yoke."

LAND HUNTERS' RUSH.

Commissioner Richards Goes to Grand Junction With a Corps of Clerks to Register Applicants.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, July 30.—United States Land Commissioner W. A. Richards, who spent the night in this city, left today for Grand Junction, Colo., one of the towns selected for registering applicants for homesteads in the Uintah reservation, which has been thrown open to settlement. Commissioner Richards will superintend the registration, and brought with him twenty-four government clerks to aid in the clerical work. If any additonal help is needed it will be secured on the ground. The work of registration will commence Tuesday next, and reports from Grand Junction indicate that a considerable number of persons have arrived there to have their names enrolled.

Word comes already that eastern roads have sold several thousand tickets with Grand Junction or other registration points as the destination, and it is thought that when the registration books are opened, a goodly number of aspirants for land in the Uintah reservation will be in line for the formality of having their names recorded.

In a printed interview, Commissioner Richards is credited with saying that while there was plenty of good land in the reservation, the amount has been exaggerated. He also stated that, compared with other reservations opened to settlement, the Uintah land was not so good. He declared emphatically that everybody, regardless of color, religion or anything else would be given an equal show. Commissioner Richards was unable to say when mineral lands in the reservation would be ready for entry.

GEN. RANDALL'S COMMAND.

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—Gen. George M. Randall arrived from San Francisco, today, to take charge of the northern division of the United States army, with headquarters in St. Louis. He succeeds Brig.-Gen. Theodore J. Wint, who has been temporarily commanding the division since Maj.-Gen. John C. Bates left for Washington, D. C., June 16. Gen. Randall for the past two years has been in command of the Department of Luzon. He will retire October 3 next because of the age limit.

THE REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

MONARCHY IS ROTTEN AND DUE TO FALL.

"Our Old Friend" More Than Likely to Lose Its Topheaviness.

Prince Dolgorouki Boldly Declares That Bloody Revolution is Possible, and the Country is Actually in State of Revolution—Tolstoi Proclaims the Beneficence of "Christian Anarchy."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOSCOW, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prince Paul Dolgorouki, marshal of the Moscow nobility, who organized the zemstvo congress, said today:

"The main interest in the proceedings of the zemstvo delegates is that they show the remarkable advance of the whole country in the direction of liberalism. The moderates today demand and expect what six months ago had been beyond the dreams of the most revolutionary, and reject as pitifully inadequate what then seemed an enormous boon of bureaucratic Czardom.

"Condemned by successive war disasters, Russia has been taught the imperative need of international emancipation. No institution is satisfactory that does not establish constitutional monarchy, based on practically the whole mass of the nation. Many, no doubt, are seeking to prepare for immediate and bloody revolution. I and my party are not, but we work with all for what is right, and will not be denied or hindered.

"If a bloody revolution there is to be, the blood will be on the head of the bureaucracy. We moderate constitutionalists still hope against hope, but cannot pretend to any certainty that this year will not witness a terrible uprising.

"We are actually in a state of revolution, but the revolution is intermittent. Whether soon we shall see the revolution general and until redress is permanent, it is rash to affirm or deny—one thing is certain, one way or another, this great land must be free."

TOLSTOI'S "NEW ERA."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOSCOW, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Count Leo Tolstoi today gave out the following statement on the present situation in Russia:

"The revolution now progressing in Russia will result in a greater change in the world than even the French Revolution effected. Those humanitarian ideas of universal peace, brotherhood and personal idealism which stirred vaguely in that movement constitute the very essence of this.

"This revolution completes the French. Its protest is against greed and tyranny in high places, against violence and killing. There have been bombs and outrage, but these are not the essence of the movement, which is a noble effort toward national and individual emancipation.

"The great fact is that the people mainly passively repudiate the government, so inaugurating a reign of beneficent anarchy, which will come in a gentle way and through fraternity.

"I know hundreds of young men who, for conscience's sake, have refused military service, willing to bear all consequences.

"Russia, thanks partly to her peculiar national temperament and largely to the war, shows the way, but England, France and America are awakening to the same lofty ideal. They are called "lands of liberty," but they have at least as much to suffer from evil principles of government as Russia, though here the evil is momentarily more obvious.

"At what cost the triumph of Christian anarchy will be won none can calculate, but this great Russian movement toward national and international morality opens a new and happier era to humanity."

ELECTORAL SYSTEM. APPROVED BY THE COUNCIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The following are the principal points of an electoral system approved by the Council of Ministers for the proposed National Assembly. The aim has been to elaborate a scheme, eliminating as far as possible class representation.

The only classes excluded from the franchise are soldiers, persons under the age of 25 years, foreigners, women, governors and vice-governors of provinces, prefects and police authorities, nomads and persons deprived of civil rights.

For St. Petersburg, Moscow and eighteen of the larger towns, there will be a system of electoral colleges numbering 160 members; for St. Petersburg, Moscow and eighty other towns these members will be elected by electors of the first degree, comprising owners of land and house property exceeding $1500 in value, the electors in the case of St. Petersburg, Moscow and 1500 other towns to include [illegible] patents and paying specified taxes, with no distinction as to religion.

For the provinces, a similar system of colleges will be elected by voters of three categories, namely, land owners, electors of other towns than the before-mentioned large towns, and cantonal representatives of peasants. Here also property qualification is required of $750 and similar tax qualifications.

The elections will be by a secret ballot, and an absolute majority is required.

THEIR FAMILIES STARVING.

RESERVISTS DISCONTENTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 31.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Novoe Vremya publishes this morning a report from Kherson that there is great discontent among the reservists in Manchuria at the distress inflicted on their families because of the negligence of the authorities who have failed to provide proper support for them. This outspoken admission from a Russian source is looked upon as significant.

STOESSEL IS RELIEVED.

HEZEKIAH BUTTERWORTH ILL.

BOSTON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hezekiah Butterworth, the famous poet and author, is critically ill of nervous exhaustion at his home here. He is advanced in years, and the physicians are doubtful of his recovery. Butterworth has been working very hard of late, against the advice of his friends and the doctor.

CZAR WON'T HAVE "A SHAMEFUL PEACE"

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Emperor has issued the following note in reply to an appeal from the clergy of Oreinburg not to conclude "a shameful peace:"

"The Russian people can rely on me. Never will I conclude a shameful peace, or one unworthy of Great Russia."

WITTE ONLY FISHING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Telegraph prints an interview with M. Witte, Russian peace envoy, who is a passenger on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. The interview was transmitted by wireless telegraphy from a correspondent on board the steamer. Referring to the negotiations to be held at Portsmouth, M. Witte said:

"Both sides are greatly mistaken in speaking of the negotiations about to take place in New Hampshire. If I knew of what I was going to negotiate with Japan's plenipotentiary, I would feel much more hopeful as to results than I do, but such is not the case.

"It is usual, when plenipotentiaries meet, that they come to give and take within certain sharply-defined limits, and they generally agree in the end. Contrary to usage, however, Japan's representative and myself are setting out without any such preliminary understanding. We have no common basis, whatever. I feel my role at the outset to be that of an imperial courier, sent to learn the terms on which the Mikado's government is ready to make peace.

"Beyond question, it would have been much better if Japan and Russia had agreed upon a common basis before appointing plenipotentiaries, but as this could not be, we must make the best of things as they are."

Referring to the talk of prospective Japanese invasions, Witte said: "My imperial master desires real and abiding peace conditions, which, while just to real facts, cannot take into consideration mere fancies."

MANN IS ANGRY.

Says That Good Must Come of the Knowledge that Some "Society" People are Silly Fools.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the course of an extended interview last night regarding the revelations in the Fads and Fancies scandal, Col. Mann, editor of Town Topics, defied Jerome and declared he was in the fight to the finish. He denied emphatically any insinuations of blackmail and said:

"I think the time has come when my position should be clearly understood by the general public. I have lived too long among men and events to have my name coupled with a damnable gang of scoundrels and swindlers. I want it clearly understood that I am willing at any time to go before District Attorney Jerome and make any statements concerning my publications that he may require of me.

"If a lot of silly men and women care to dawdle away their lives in a continuous round of inane gayety, the very fact of the publication of their attempts at pleasure must in he end prove to millions of other citizens of the United States what fools in motley are the members of what is known as 'society.' If men and women of this class care to give their dinners and routs without the presence of a single man who stands for some work accomplished, some ideal brought forward or good done to his fellow beings, the mere publication of their lives and sayings must have its good effect. Good must come of these revelations of the vanity of society."

BROKEN AXLE CAUSED WRECK.

SCORE OF PASSENGERS WERE INJURED ON SANTA FE.

Four Persons Received Fatal Hurts and One Man Was Killed Outright. Corpse Crushed Beyond Recognition, but Paper Found on Body Indicates He Was John Grugerie.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, July 30.—A broken axle in the wheel of a smoking car caused the wrecking of the California special on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad at Lamont, last night, when one man was killed outright, four persons fatally injured and a score of other passengers received injuries. The identity of the man killed is still in doubt, but it is supposed to be John Grugerie, an Italian laborer of Sunnyside, Utah.

The fatally injured are:

WILLIAM MACVEAGH, Joliet, Ill., right arm crushed, and later amputated. Right side and leg crushed.

H. L. MOODY, Cleveland, Okla., skull fractured.

ANCROTTI GROBANNI, Italian, badly crushed and burned by fire that was started in the coach by the wreck.

Unidentified Italian laborer, skull fractured and chest crushed.

Among other injured, but whom it is said will recover are:

JOHN DALY, Chillicothe, Mo., employé of the Santa Fe road.

JOHN SATRONI, Italian laborer.

MRS. T. E. THOMPSON, St. Paul, Minn., head and face cut by glass.

A. C. KENNEDY, Bloomington, crushed by wreckage

The man who was killed was found pinioned down by seats which had fallen on him. He was crushed beyond recognition, but a paper found on him indicates that he was John Grugerie of Sunnyside, Utah. The injured were conveyed to Joliet, where they are being taken care of in the hospitals of that city.

CAPTURES WARWICK'S SON.

Ambassador Reid's Daughter Credited by London Gossips With Having Won Lord Brooke.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, June 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is a great deal of talk just now about a possible engagement between Lord Brooke, the son and heir of the Earl of Warwick, and Miss Reid, daughter of the American Ambassador. It would be a very popular match for all parties, as Lord Brooke is serious-minded, ambitious and clever, though, of course, with the family fortunes at low ebb.

It is said the affair was nearly brought to a climax during Whitelaw Reid's visit to Exton, but gossips say it takes some time definitely to settle everything.

GOLD IN NEW JERSEY.

ORANGE (N. J.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Men engaged in drilling a well on the Stacey Smith property in North Caldwell, pulled from the bottom of the excavation, which is 192 feet deep, a piece of rock through which there was found running a narrow thread of gold. Klondike visions have taken possession of many.

PARLIAMENT'S LIFE.

LIGHTNING STRIKES.

Five Coney Island Bathers Killed.

Electric Fluid Slides Down Flagpole and Prostrates Nearly Fifty People.

Nine Injured Taken to the Hospital, Where Some of Them Will Die.

Four Victims at Gravesend. Terrific Thunderstorm and Fierce Rains.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—During a thunderstorm of terrific intensity which passed over New York this afternoon, five persons were struck by lightning and instantly killed, and nine were seriously injured at the Parkway baths, Coney Island. At the same time, one man was killed and three others prostrated at Gravesend Beach.

Those killed at Coney Island:

GEORGE DUNWOODIE, Brooklyn.
JACOB FRANKEL, Manhattan.
ROBERT F. WASCH, Bronx.
CHARLES BENNERLE, Brooklyn.
FRANK BENNERLE, Brooklyn.
HENRY RANSWEILER, Brooklyn.

The intense heat of the morning attracted a great multitude to the shore resorts, and late in the afternoon, when the storm blew up from the eastward, the park and beach was thronged with bathers and spectators. The rain descended in torrents, and hundreds of men, women and children sought shelter under the big bathhouse, which is elevated above the sand on piles. The lightning was incessant, and terrific thunderclaps shook the bath-house, to the terror of the crowd huddled together beneath it.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock, a bolt struck the flagstaff and grounded in the very thickest of the crowd. Nearly fifty persons were prostrated; and the crowd rushed out into the storm. Those who had remained in the water were almost panic-stricken, and ran in all directions, not daring to enter the bath-house, which appeared to be on fire.

Ambulances were summoned from all the nearest hospitals and on their arrival five persons were found dead and nine unconscious under the bath-house.

The bodies of all were scorched by the electric fluid. The nine injured were removed to a hospital, where it was said that some probably would die. Many persons less seriously hurt were taken home by friends. A slight fire in the bath-house was quickly extinguished by the rain.

About the same time, Henry Ransweiler was struck and killed while sheltered under a tree at Gravesend Beach, and his son, William, with John Apple and Daniel McCauley, were rendered unconscious.

Lightning struck at various points in the city. A store on Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, was burned, and a car on Sixth avenue, Manhattan, was set on fire, but the occupants escaped unhurt.

The electric light and the telephone wires in Bellevue Hospital were struck several times, extinguishing all the lights and causing much alarm among the patients.

STRUCK THE EAGLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The storm reached its height at Coney Island shortly after 4 o'clock, when probably a hundred thousand people were bathing at Brighton Beach and adjacent resorts. The five people killed had taken refuge from the storm on a board walk at the base of the great flagpole which is one of the features of the Parkway Baths. The death-dealing ball came without warning, while a group was crouching close to the walk. The great, spreading American flag stood out straight in the gale from the top of the flagpole overhead. Surmounting the pole was the spread eagle of gilded copper. The bolt struck that first. Then it passed through the flag, burning out the shield of stars and stripping off four of the thirteen stripes. Next, it seized firmly upon the pole—a great, glowing column of fire—and like an inverted pin-wheel or enormous snake, circled downward around the pole with frightful rapidity.

Twenty feet from the ground the band of iron clasped the pole. Until the thunderbolt had reached this circle, it held its firm, round shape, shedding only a brilliant shower of sparks, thrown off like radium particles in its descent. As it reached the iron belt, there was a sharp report like the discharge of a machine gun, and in an instant the ball was shattered into a score of zigzag darting tongues, which spread off in all directions into the huddling people. Four of the dead were burned so as to be difficult of recognition. Their hands and feet were blackened by the shock and their bodies turned purple. Deep cuts showed where the bolts entered. Thousands standing near received shocks.

RESERVOIRS BURST.

DISASTER IN CONNECTICUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BRIDGEPORT (Conn.) July 30.—Loss of life and immense damage to property followed the bursting of reservoirs north of this city as a result of the unprecedented fall of rain early today. The dam at Ward's Mill at Aston went out at 2 o'clock this morning, sending a great body of water down through the town of Trumbull. There was no warning to the people who lived on the banks of what is usually a small watercourse. The house occupied by John Lesco, his wife and several small children was picked by the flood and carried a mile below. The Lesco family were asleep at the time, and all were rescued after a perilous journey.

A house occupied by Michael Moran was hurled against the Berkshire bridge and smashed to kindling wood, and it is believed that Moran was drowned. Police and firemen went to the rescue, and saved several lives.

In North Bridgeport, the water swept against the Barnum avenue bridge and wrecked it, just when an ice wagon was crossing it. In the wagon were William Kowzeski and John Starkin. The wagon and horses were swept away, and Kowzeski was drowned. Starkin was able to swim ashore.

FIERCE ELECTRICAL STORMS.

TWELVE DEATHS REPORTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The northeastern coast of the United States was terrorized today by one of the most fearful electrical storms in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Up to midnight twelve deaths had been reported, while scores were injured.

America's greatest pleasure ground, Coney Island, was visited by a tremendous storm, which killed five, injured nine seriously and shocked thousands. At Gravesend, a few miles away, one man was killed and five injured.

Cartaret, N. J., was struck by a cyclone, accompanied by terrible thunder and lightning. Houses were wrecked, trees uprooted and hundreds of chickens and small animals killed. Many marvelous escapes from death are reported.

Bridgeport, Ct., was swept by the worst storm in its history. Two persons were killed and many injured. Houses were wrecked, and many freak accidents occurred.

The storm struck Point Pleasant, N. J., while hundreds were bathing in the ocean. Two were drowned and a number injured by lightning.

In New York City the storm also played havoc. Incessant peals of thunder began with daylight, but while the storm was leaving a trail of death and terror on every side, it did not strike the city until about 6 o'clock in the evening. Bellevue Hospital was thrown into utter darkness by lightning striking the electric-light and telephone wires. The wires were twice struck and thunder peals shook the building and created a panic among the patients.

FIGHTING IN SAKHALIN.

TOKIO, July 30, 7 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The following dispatch has been received from the Japanese army headquarters:

"Our independent cavalry which entered Rykoff (on Sakhalin Island, 45 miles northeast of Port Due) July 27, withdrew on finding order in the city unfavorable to its occupation.

"Our army, intending to crush the enemy's forces before they retreated from the eminences west of Rykoff, commenced to advance at 3 a.m. on July 28. The van, together with an independent body of cavalry, advanced by forced marches, taking and dislodging the enemy holding the northern extremity of Rykoff, and rushed into the town. Confused street fighting ensued, but the town was completely taken at 8:30 o'clock in the morning.

"The enemy's main strength, which opposed our right column, fled in disorder southward, taking the short route leading to Pareonot.

"On July 28, a detachment which was sent south in pursuit of the enemy, met the enemy's infantry, some eight hundred strong, at a point six miles south of Rykoff, and killed over two hundred and captured 500.

"The enemy's strength opposed to our right column was of some 3000 infantry and four guns and four machine guns, and that opposed to our left some 2000 infantry and four guns.

"The enemy's loss in trophies is under investigation."

ALL-DAY CHASE.

TOKIO, July 30, Noon.—The following report has been received from the headquarters of the imperial army:

"Our force on the island of Sakhalin advanced on the 27th and hotly chased the enemy, from early in the morning. Our vanguard occupied Del Benskoe the same afternoon. While our cavalry entered Rykoff, another detachment was sent against the enemy at Nomiha and Ivovskoe; dislodged the enemy's force holding Vydernicovsky and vicinity, and immediately commenced pursuit.

"The enemy holding the latter place consisted of infantry with several guns.

"The temperature is 93 deg. Fahr."

COTTON STRIKE THREATENS.

LONDON, July 30.—A strike of 60,000 Lancashire cotton operatives is threatened, owing to the masters' refusal of a 5 per cent. advance in wages. A ballot on the question of striking was taken by the operatives last week, but the result of the ballot will not be made known until tomorrow night. The indications are, however, that a majority will favor a strike.

CHEERS FOR TAFT PARTY.

Special Train Conveys the Americans to Kobe.

Remarkable Demonstration at Railway Station.

Komura and Kaneko Visit Friends at Peekskill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KIOTO, July 30.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Secretary of War Taft and his party spent Sunday morning quietly. Some of the members of the party attended church, while others visited the temple. When the party left, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, on a special train for Kobe, there was another remarkable demonstration. At the station a great crowd awaited Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt and began cheering when their carriage arrived, the ovation continuing until the train started.

The band played the national anthem and "Auld Lang Syne" as the train pulled away from the station.

ARRIVAL AT KOBE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KOBE, July 30.—Secretary Taft and his party arrived here at 5 o'clock this afternoon from Kioto. They were the recipients of an enthusiastic welcome from the Governor and the Mayor and city officials and assembled thousands. Amid a display of day fireworks, the party proceeded to the waterfront, where a short reception was held. Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt were given a number of presents.

The steamer Manchuria will sail at 10 o'clock tonight for Nagasaki.

Capt. Robert H. Noble, Third United States Infantry, military aide to Gov.-Gen. Wright of the Philippines, officially met the Secretary of War and his party here.

MR. FOSS'S TRIP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NAGASAKI, July 30.—Representative Foss, chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, accompanied by Lieut. Frank Marble, naval attaché of the American legation at Tokio, left today for Sasebo, where they will inspect the navy yard as guests of the Japanese Navy Department. Foss will rejoin Secretary of War Taft at Nagasaki.

BACKED BY BRITISH.

JAPAN'S ALLY STANDS PAT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Japan comes to the Washington conference assured that, whatever her peace terms, they will have the sympathetic approval of Great Britain. Several suggestions from Washington to London that the cause of peace would be served by an explanation to Japan from her ally favoring moderation in her demands upon Russia, have not availed to change the British government in its apparently unalterable determination to stand by Japan, however severe she makes her conditions of peace.

Nor has the British government seen the way clear to render assistance to Washington in the efforts which this government is making to obtain an armistice. Advices reaching here show that London is opposed to an armistice until Japan has been satisfied that the plenipotentiaries are prepared to discuss means of ending the war.

Russia is ready to conclude peace, and has so empowered her plenipotentiaries. Great Britain, it is believed, might favor an armistice, but even in such event, it is said she would be unwilling to offer Japan advice on the subject.

As understood in Washington, Lord Lansdowne's position is that, as the loyal ally of Japan, Great Britain can afford to take no step, nor assume any attitude that would in the remotest degree redound to the advantage of Japan's enemy.

KOMURA AND KANEKO.

VISIT OLD COLLEGE CHUMS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace plenipotentiary, and Baron Kaneko, the Japanese financial agent, both of whom are Harvard graduates, went to Peekskill today, where they visited some friends of their college days.

Work at the headquarters of the peace commission was not entirely suspended, however, as several of the secretaries continued their labors with the dispatches and mail. Some of the suite spent the day at various resorts near the city, while others visited friends.

Dispatches announcing that Korea, like China, would protest against a treaty of peace in which she was not consulted, were called to the attention of Aimar Sato of the commission, and all he would say was that the time for any of those protests to be made was after the negotiations had been concluded.

"No one," he said, "has any business before the commissioners but themselves."

A number of Japanese newspaper correspondents are in the city. Several came with Baron Komura's party. Among those in the city today it is the decided opinion that when peace is declared Japan, having become a world power, will elevate her ministries in the capitals of the powers to embassies. All agreed that it was the understanding in Japan that if peace is declared at the coming negotiations, Baron Komura would become a count, which carries with it in Japan a gift of a large sum of money, and that Minister Takahira would be elevated to the rank of an Ambassador.

DEATH FROM OLD AGE.

Dr. Maudsley at British Medical Association's Congress Advocates Prevention of Disease.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The future work of medicine, said Dr. Henry Maudsley at the British Medical Association's Congress, which is being held at Leeds this year, will be mainly to prevent and stop the beginnings of disease, so that, in fact, everybody should die at last of old age, as every doctor himself ought theoretically to die.

Might not some good come, Dr. Maudsley asked, from systematic inquiries into the production and elimination of constitutional disease tendencies and disease immunities by marriage unions of different tendencies and immunities. When a person had a disease like that which either parent had, he might owe it to these variations occurring in morbid heredity, just as they do psychologically. Another idea worth investigation was how best to treat a person having a native tendency to epilepsy, cancer or insanity, so as to cancel it in his progenitor, or, better still, convert it into good evolution. Variation was what sometimes happened, one child of a neuropathic family dying in a lunatic asylum, while another rose to eminence as poet, painter or orator.

Dr. Maudsley said it was certain that there were laws of mental breeding yet to be discovered, and yet it was no more difficult to inquire scientifically into the nature of vice and sin than into nature and actions of poisons. Hatred was as natural as hunger, and stood in no less need of scientific explanation.

TWENTY-SEVEN NEW CASES.

THREE DEATHS AT NEW ORLEANS FROM FEVER.

Work of Sanitation, Fumigation, Oiling and Screening Goes On Steadily—Conference Held to Discuss Freight and Passenger Regulations—Report of Surgeon-General.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 30.—New cases reported up to 6 p.m. today, 27.

Total cases to date, 263.

Deaths today, 3.

Deaths to date, 57.

New foci, 4.

Total foci, 41.

Though this was Sunday, the work of sanitation, fumigation, oiling and screening went on just the same and will continue daily until the city has been thoroughly screened and made mosquito-proof.

The record for today shows little change from that of yesterday, except in the reduction of the number of deaths. The decreased number of new foci is also a new encouragement. A new complication was disclosed today when Superintendent Curran of the New Orleans and Northeastern Railway announced that two passengers who had remained the required length of time in the Siddel detention camp and sought admission into Mississippi had been turned back.

The location of the Louisville and Nashville camp has not yet been fixed, but Dr. Guiteras hopes to get in communication with Adjt.-Gen. Fridge of Mississippi, who is in charge of the State quarantine on the Gulf Coast, and finally arrange the matter.

President Souchon of the State Board of Health has also taken cognizance of Gov. Vardaman's comments about evasion and dissimulation, and today gave out the following statement:

"I most emphatically deny the assertion made by Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi that I knew there were a great many cases of yellow fever in New Orleans before the announcement of the fact was made.

"That assertion is false and erratic, and quite in keeping with the well-known temperament of Gov. Vardaman. The first case came upon me like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. As soon as I had seen four suspicious cases, which all came to my knowledge within four days, I wrote the following letter and sent the following telegram to Dr Hunter of Mississippi, Dr. Tabor of Texas, Dr. Sanders of Alabama and Dr. Wyman of the Marine Hospital Service."

Dr. Souchon then quotes his letter and telegram notifying them of the presence of cases presenting symptoms of yellow fever.

This forenoon, in response to the call of Souchon, a conference was held to discuss freight and passenger regulations. No representative of the States was present except Dr. Baxter of the Tennessee board, who expressed himself as follows: "I am thoroughly satisfied with every condition I see, both as regards energy and efficiency."

Dr. White, United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, said that freight cars were being fumigated whenever there was a possibility of their containing infected mosquitos and wherever else there was a demand for fumigation on the part of the authorities of the States to which or through which the cars were to run.

Statements from D. D. Curran, superintendent of the New Orleans and Northeastern Railroad; by O. M. Dunn, superintendent of the Illinois Central, and announcement by others familiar with the situation were that every passenger train run out of New Orleans was either supplied by a shuttle train at a point beyond possible infection, or was fumigated prior to departure, and was closed through the States demanding such regulations.

There is much gratification at the action of Texas in raising the quarantine against the State except at points of infection, which is in line with the statement of Dr. Tabor that this course would be taken just as soon as the State was quarantined against the infected points. On the other hand, the Mississippi authorities are drawing the lines tighter every day, as was shown by the refusal to admit passengers with certificates from the Slidell detention camp on the New Orleans and Eastern Railroad. Surgeon White has taken this question up with the authorities of Mississippi, and hopes to be able to straighten out the tangle.

Today, acting on the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Beverly Warner, who is general superintendent of the campaign of education, every preacher referred to the work now in hand, and in all the Protestant churches, the Episcopal prayer in times of public emergency was recited. The preachers asked the congregations to lend their assistance to the work of the ward committees which are oiling and screening cisterns, and it is believed that this will have a splendid effect. The demand for 16 and 18-mesh screen wire has been so great that there is a shortage of it here, and cheesecloth is being used in many places as a temporary substitute.

RELEASE OF PASSENGERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—Health Officer Doty visited the quarantine islands in the lower bay today, and shortly afterward three passengers of the steamer Seguranca, namely, Miss Heckter, Henry Boyd and Miss Wempe, were released, together with the two members of the crew of the steamer Eldorado, which arrived yesterday from New Orleans, and were held for observation, owing to high temperatures. The four passengers of the Seguranca detained at Hoffman Island are quite comfortable, and if all goes well, will be released probably tomorrow.

The ten members of the crew of the Seguranca are pleasantly situated at Swinburne Island in the two new wards recently erected on the island. Of this number, only two are seriously ill. They are Thomas McGill, one of the Seguranca's stewards, and Vincent Novo, a fireman.

Later: It was announced tonight that of the ten men of the crew of the Seguranca under detention, eight were suffering from malarial fever only, and that while there was still some doubt regarding the fireman and steward, it was probable that they were suffering from the same form of fever.

MEMPHIS QUARANTINE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) July 30.—The report given out yesterday, following the meeting of the State, city and county boards of health, regarding the quarantine regulations established against New Orleans and fever-infected districts, proves to be partly erroneous.

The official statement is to the effect that West Tennessee and Hamilton county will close their doors against the fever districts. No quarantine rules for the entire State have been promulgated. Strict vigilance is being maintained by quarantine officials who are guarding approaches from the south to this division of the State.

REPORT ON INSPECTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—A dispatch received by Surgeon-General Wyman of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service from Dr. J. H. White, in charge of the service work at New Orleans, today, tells of the steps taken by Surgeon T. F. Richardson, who is supervising the work in the infected district for the City Board of Health.

It reports that, Thursday and Friday, there were 1918 houses inspected; 19 cases of sickness were investigated, and 2000 or more tanks and cisterns oiled. The officials of the Marine Hospital Service express the opinion that the fact that the area of the disease has been well restricted is an encouraging feature of the present outbreak. But two other places outside of the State of Louisiana, they say, have officially reported a case of the fever, a notable contrast to former outbreaks, when it spread with greater rapidity.

DOING THINGS TO MAUD.

Col. John McBride's Counsel Discredits the "Irish Liberator" and Her Counsel Strikes Back.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The divorce suit of Maud Gonne the so-called "Irish liberator," against her husband, Col. John McBride of Boer war fame, has occasioned the bitterest personalities and criminations on both sides. The prosecution has ridiculed McBride's Boer war career, and held him up as a "drunken no-account," while McBride's counsel have endeavored to prove that Maud is pure English, a "wild-eyed dreamer," and "out for the dough."

Maitre Cruppi declared McBride's Paris friends to be a band of drunken American journalists, and Maitre Labori retorted that Maud Gonne was subject to hallucinations, giving, as one example only, her often-stated belief that she herself was a reincarnation of an ancient Irish queen, while McBride contained the soul of a certain other hero of Irish history. Other hallucinations that he mentioned sent the audience into peals of laughter.

McBride's friends declared that they have such revelations at their command as to Maud Gonne's ante-nuptial career that she must not only irrevocably lose her suit, but her reputation.

ROOSEVELTS AT CHURCH.

Immigration Bureau Officers Going to China.

Louis Getz Says Boycott is Inspired in Peking.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President and his advisers are doing all in their power to pacify the Chinese guilds, which have started the boycott against American goods, and the Department of Commerce and Labor has decided to send Immigration Bureau officers to China to examine the students and merchants who claim the right to enter the United States. These officials will be in a better position to determine the facts than the officers in this country, and those who propose to come to America will be saved the expense of the journey, if it is found they are not eligible.

This plan, it is believed, will satisfy the Chinese, and will not only end the boycott, but will do much toward inducing the Peking government to renew the treaty excluding Chinese coolies from the United States.

INSPIRED IN PEKING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louis Getz of Getz Brothers & Company, who has arranged for a meeting of San Francisco commercial bodies for tomorrow afternoon to consider plans for stopping the Chinese boycott of American goods, was forced to stop preparing a shipment of $30,000 of goods for China, because of his cable advices about the boycott. Getz says that the boycott, as far as his advices go, was inspired in Peking.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Watching Norway and Sweden.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Norway will soon take her place among the family of nations as a republic and receive the recognition of the powers as an independent state is the opinion of the officials of the Department of State. They are watching with great interest the progress of events in Norway and Sweden. Pending a decision by the people as to whether the two countries will divide, this government will do nothing looking toward the recognition of Norway as an independent nation.

GREAT RAINS IN CHILE.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, July 30.—There have been tremendous rains throughout the whole country, and the prospects of the wheat crop are bad.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Heavy clouds threatened to mar the day for the excursionists and pleasure seekers, out at noon the sun came out. Its rays were tempered, however, by a steady breeze from the north. The maximum temperature was 73 degs., minimum 63 degs. Middle West temperatures:

FREIGHT HANDLERS.

While willing to concede to the officers of the Freight Handlers' Union the privilege of a conference, the general managers of the Chicago railroad lines are unwilling to arbitrate the question of a wage increase. Their attitude is a belligerent one, and unless the freight handlers recede from the position they have taken, a strike is almost certain. The present indications are that the actual breach between the general managers and the union leaders will not come until late this week. Probably no order for a walkout of the freight handlers will be issued before next Monday.

SLAVERY IN ALASKA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That humany slavery exists today under the American flag and that the United States government is doing and for many years has done nothing to abolish the custom, though in direct contravention of the Constitution, is the charge made by Prof. William A. Davis, superintendent of the United States schools of Unalaska, Alaska. Prof. Davis declares that since he went to Unalaska, one of the Aleutian Islands, in 1898, he has done all in his power to induce the proper authorities to enforce the law against slavery under the Stars and Stripes, but without avail. By individual effort, he says, he has succeeded in securing the release of two little slave girls, who were sent back to their native islands, but no official action has been taken toward freeing any of the half-dozen other girls who, to his personal and positive knowledge, are held in absolute bondage in the little village of Unalaska.

"ROAST" OF ROCKEFELLER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "John D. Rockefeller is the greatest criminal of the age." These were the words of Gov. Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin in an address delivered before the Illinois State Chautauqua Assembly this afternoon. The address was a flaming arraignment of corrupt State and national legislation and of the monopolies. The press came in for a share of the speaker's denunciation, and he exhibited a list of Wisconsin editors who, he said, had "sold out" their papers.

Owner Looney and Daughter Disagree.

"High-grade" Beast With Ink in His Ear.

Severe Storm at the Dalles. Trail Fight Ends.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Or.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Golden J. Exile, supposedly a bull of high grade, took prizes at the live-stock shows at Salem, Walla Walla and North Yakima, and was sold by the owner, Dave Looney, for a fancy price. Looney also owned what was known as the Miller bull, and Miss Lou Miller has identified Golden J. Exile, as the latter, as the animal was bred by her father, and she had traced the letters "C. M." in its ear with India ink.

Complaint was made to the American Jersey Cattle Club, and W. M. Ladd of Portland made an investigation. Looney says that his foreman reported the Miller bull dead, when it was probably the high-grade animal which died.

The outcome of the trial before the Jersey Club is being watched with interest, for upon the verdict rests Looney's reputation as a breeder. J. T. Ladd, who bought the substitute bull, is taking no interest in the matter, for Looney made the transaction satisfactory to him, and the only question involved is the honor of D. H. Looney.

STORM AT THE DALLES.

ICE, THUNDER AND HEAT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

THE DALLES (Or.) July 30.—A sudden drop in temperature, bringing with it a severe hailstorm, accompanied by thunder, swept suddenly over the city this afternoon. The storm was very unexpected, and after the high temperature had occurred, the sweltering heat again took a jump, and the heat was almost as oppressive as before.

At 2 o'clock, the temperature began to drop, and rapidly receded from 100 to 65 deg., a drop of 29 points occurring in twelve minutes. A hailstorm followed, of a peculiar nature. The irregular chunks of ice, differing entirely from the regular hailstones, poured from the clouds.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Further Fight on "Trail."

PORTLAND (Or.) July 30.—It is said definitely that the exposition management will not make any further legal fight against the Trail concessionaires, who were given an injunction in the Circuit Court restraining the exposition from interfering with their keeping open on Sunday.

JEWS REFUSE AFRICAN HOME.

ZIONIST CONGRESS DECLINES OFFER MADE BY BRITAIN.

Amid Loud Protests from the Social Section a Resolution is Adopted Declaring for Palestine or "That Vicinity"—Protesting Element Bolts and Meeting Adjourns With Cheers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BASLE, July 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] By an overwhelming majority, the Zionist Congress this afternoon decided not to accept the offer of Great Britain of a tract of land in East Africa for the formation of a Zionist colony.

A special sitting of the congress was called for 9 o'clock last evening for the discussion of this subject, four orators supporting and four opposing Great Britain's proposition. The debate lasted for over six hours, and President Nordeau eventually suspended the sitting, owing to the tumultous scenes. The sitting was resumed at noon today, when the committee having the matter in hand presented the following resolution:

"That the Zionist Congress firmly maintains the principle for the foundation of the colony in the Jewish fatherland, Palestine, or in that vicinity. The Congress thanks Great Britain for her offer of African territory, the consideration of which, however, is terminated, and hopes that Great Britain will continue to aid in the solution of the Jewish question."

The resolution was adopted by a large majority, amid loud protests from the social section, the members of which left the building. The sitting was concluded with enthusiastic cheering.

A second session of the Congress was held tonight, calm prevailing throughout. President Nordeau requested Greenburg to convey the thanks of the Zionists to the British government for its East African offer.

Leon, in the name of the American delegates, proposed a vote of gratitude to the memory of John Hay, who had often lent assistance to the Jewish nation.

The new statutes of the Jewish nation come up for discussion at the next session.

PURGATIVES FROM THE PRESIDENT.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE GETS A STRONG ONE.

Secretary Wilson Will Not Go Out, but "Graft" and "Grafters" Will be Cleared Away—Many Employees of the Department are Dropped from the Rolls.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OYSTER BAY, July 30.—Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture is expected at Sagamore Hill tomorrow. His visit will enable him and the President to discuss the situation in the department as it relates to the investigations now in progress.

All rumors of the intention of Secretary Wilson to resign from the Cabinet may be put aside as merely conjectural. The Secretary has no present intention of leaving the Cabinet, and the President knows of no reason why he should resign. The President, it may be said, reposes implicit confidence in Secretary Wilson, and is thoroughly satisfied that he will solve the difficulties now presented to the entire satisfaction of the Chief Executive and of the country.

It is probable Secretary Wilson would have come to Oyster Bay before this had it not been for the unsettled condition of his department, which rendered it practically impossible for him to leave Washington. He is pressing every phase of the investigation now in progress, and will develop every fact which the country ought to know. That the President is confident the Secretary will purge the department of any scandal that may attach to it is evidenced by the fact that he has not interfered with the pending investigations. All matters brought to his attention have been turned over to Secretary Wilson, with instructions to inquire into them. This the Secretary has done, and his work has the approval of the President.

It is the determination of both the President and Secretary Wilson to clear the Department of Agriculture of every form of "graft." To this end, the likelihood is that every bureau of the department will be inquired into carefully, with a view to ascertaining whether any such condition exists as was developed in the Bureau of Statistics. Quietly, but effectively, Secretary Wilson has been working to this end for many months. Many employés of the department have been dropped from the rolls, practically without the knowledge of the general public. Some have been dismissed outright, while others have been permitted to resign. Assurances are given that no stone will be left unturned to eliminate every taint of scandal in the Department of Agriculture.

GEN. BOOTH'S LONG TOUR.

He is enthusiastic over the success of his five-months' tour in the Antipodes. He expressed himself as profoundly impressed with the possibilities of Australia's future. Australia's vital need, he said, was more population, and he was prepared to promote his scheme of emigration on a greater scale than ever before. Twenty thousand acres of land in Western Australia were given to him to do with as he pleased.

NO AUTO RUN.

The Hensley auto party, which made such a fine run from San Francisco to this city for The Times-Chronicle Cup, had a piece of bad racing luck on their return journey Saturday night and came back for a fresh start. They left Los Angeles for San Francisco at 10:15 o'clock, and had gone about sixty miles when they discovered that owing to the darkness of the night they had gotten on the wrong road, having gone to the right instead of the left at the forks. For this reason they returned and will start again tonight.

SLOW ACTION.

Lying on his back for three days, Joe Maze, a laborer, has been in the Receiving Hospital waiting for the county authorities to take him to the County Hospital. Maze is in a diseased condition and badly in need of thorough treatment. Owing to the deficient facilities for transporting patients to the County Hospital he has only been getting the temporary relief which the Receiving Hospital is supposed to afford. Many times have the surgeons in charge of the County Hospital been informed that the man needed to go to that institution.

WATER BOARD TO ACT.

The Preliminary Steps for Raising Money to Bring Owens River to Los Angeles to be Taken Today. Labor Union Organ's Spleen.

THE initial steps will be taken at the Water Board meeting this afternoon to place the municipal machinery in motion for calling a bond election to cover the purchase price of the Owens River.

This election can be called only by the City Council, a various processes to which the recommendation from the Water Board must be subjected, in order to satisfy the argus-eyed bond critics in the East, necessitates considerable delay.

Enthusiastic water commissioners asserted last week, however, that the election would be held and the issue of bonds voted within the next thirty days.

Time will now be the essence of the preliminary arrangement. The city occupies the uncomfortable position of guests at a banquet waiting for the dinner announcement to be made.

Water commissioners yesterday expressed indignation that an attempt should have been made by the Examiner to discredit the part that ex-Mayor Fred Eaton has taken in securing to the city the exclusive right to the flow of a stream half the size of the Colorado River.

"I have known Fred Eaton since the time when we were kindergartners together," said one commissioner last night. "Fred Eaton is a native son. Through a business and political career covering over forty years I have never heard him accused of taking tainted money. He has the interest of the city at heart to the extent that some more or less credulous newcomers do not understand or appreciate. They have made the mistake of assuming that Mr. Eaton has done what they probably would have done under similar circumstances.

"By acting in collusion with the Rickey Cattle Company Mr. Eaton could have easily compelled the city to pay a million dollars for the holdings of that corporation in the Owens River Valley. We are to get the land for less than $450,000. If the city had declined to pay the million dollars asked Mr. Eaton could have disposed of the land to a big syndicate that has made surveys in the Owens Valley for the purpose of utilizing both the water and the water power of the river and its tributary streams. Engineers have estimated that the streams now held on options by the city will furnish 90,000 horse-power. A private corporation utilizing both that power and the water could have made millions out of the Owens Valley. The most remarkable thing about it all to me is that the water in the valley was not taken up by a private syndicate years ago. It would seem that the Lord has indeed been good to us by preserving for us the water of that valley for so long a time."

MULHOLLAND GOES BACK.

Water Superintendent Mulholland is so anxious to get started on the actual work of taking the water from the Owens River and sending it on its 240-mile journey into Los Angeles that he has arranged to go back into the valley just as soon as the preliminary steps are taken for calling the bond election.

"There are others to see to the details of presenting the question squarely before the people," said Mr. Mulholland last night, "I can do more in the valley getting ready for the development work which is to follow."

Mr. Mulholland has pledged his word to bring the Owens River into the San Fernando Valley in four years time, provided there are no delays in financing the enterprise. Seeking to avoid these delays, the Water Commissioners will probably ask the Council to fix the rate of interest on the bonds at 4 per cent. per annum. The last water bonds bore 3½ per cent. interest; on account of their low rate there was a delay of over a year in the selling.

The first bond issue will probably be for $1,250,000. This will pay for all the land now held on options, for the preliminary surveys and for the construction of reservoirs and power plants in the Owens Valley. Interest and sinking fund will be provided for out of the water revenue. There will be no increase in either the tax or the water rate.

About February 1, 1906, the Water Commissioners will ask the people to vote a second issue of bonds to pay for the construction of the tunnels. Mr. Mulholland has estimated that the actual tunnel work will cover less than twenty miles of the distance; but there will be other extremely heavy side-hill cuts, taking about as much time as the tunnel work, which will bring the aggregate to about thirty-five miles.

For over 200 miles the conduit will run over land where there will be little excavating to do. There the work can be pushed rapidly. It is just possible that, if the money is forthcoming for working enough crews, the conduit may be completed in less than four years' time.

NO BIG CONTRACTS.

There will be no big contracts to let, no advertising for bids; the conduit is to be constructed by men working under the immediate direction of Superintendent Mulholland. This will avoid needless delay and will probably give the city a cheaper conduit than if built by private contract. The profit which each contractor would expect to make out of the work will accrue to the city.

PASADENA'S DESIRE.

Pasadena has already expressed a desire to take a portion of the surplus water after the needs of the domestic water system have been supplied. When the present enterprise was first discussed it was suggested that Pasadena be let in on the ground floor. Mayor McAleer and City Attorney Mathews objected to this arrangement, as did ex-Mayor Eaton. All agreed that Los Angeles city should secure the sole title to the water-bearing lands in the Owens Valley in order to secure herself against possible future litigation.

But in the construction of the conduit Pasadena, as well as Long Beach, Redondo and Santa Monica, may be permitted to participate, taking their pay in water to be delivered from the new supply. If such an arrangement can be made it will make the burden of constructing the conduit considerably lighter. If these cities decline to help along with the construction work the water department may sell the surplus water to agriculturists rather than to municipalities.

ACTIVITY IN FERNANDO VALLEY.

The first rays of the sun of prosperity have already raced over desert and mountain range and entered the San Fernando Valley.

No one except the ranchers in the valley, who have lived and suffered there, can realize what the cutting off of the valley's water supply for the city domestic system meant.

Corporations are already being organized to take hold of big reclamation projects in the land lying between Burbank and San Fernando. The object is to have the canals all dug and the land prepared for irrigation by the time the Owens River tumbles through Tacoima Pass back into the valley from which it was banished twenty centuries ago.

No prodigal ever received a more grateful, cordial welcome than will be extended to the Sierra floods on their return to their native channel.

No better illustration of the clean-cut business methods pursued by the water commissioners in the negotiations for the Owens River purchase can be given than to compare them with the futile efforts made by San Francisco to secure a water supply from Tuolumne county.

Here a dozen men worked in perfect accord. Betrayal by any one of them of the nature of the enterprise would have cost the city at least an extra million dollars.

LABOR UNION KICKER.

Every preliminary negotiation has gone through without a hitch. The approval by the people of the action of the Mayor and the Water Board is only a matter of form. The only objections thus far raised have come from a labor-union organ that lacked the enterprise to get the news of the successful conclusion of the negotiations for the purchase of the land and water in the Owens Valley.

Labor-union-ridden San Francisco has been striving feebly for four years to finance a project to bring water to that city from the Tuolumne River, 160 miles away.

Favorable reports on the feasibility of the enterprise have been made by government engineers and by experts employed by the municipality. But at every attempt to start on the actual work labor-union graft has interfered. This has gone on for four years. The city of San Francisco is in the grasp of a private water corporation, and there are no prospects of release until the walking delegates are retired from municipal positions.

In the meantime other municipalities are investigating the feasibility of annexing the Tuolumne River and the prospects are excellent that by the time San Francisco rids itself of the grafters and their union supporters other and more favored municipalities will have purchased the Tuolumne River.

It is just possible that the local union labor element may oppose the present water development project. Vague hints have already been made by a local labor union organ that the proposition is not what it should be and the bonds should be voted down. But fortunately for Los Angeles the walking delegates and their dupes are here in great minority. Their combined opposition cannot block the wheels of progress.

Another River Available.

A. H. Koebig, a local civil engineer, has been investigating the water supply in the Mojave River, and believes that fully 10,000 inches of water could be developed there and brought into Los Angeles, in connection with the Owens River scheme. Mr. Koebig believes that the two schemes could be combined in a practicable manner.

CRY-BABY LOWENTHAL.

Everybody is laughing at the baby antics of the impossible Lowenthal, presiding howler of the Examiner, who takes pains to exploit the fact that the Examiner did not hear of the most important piece of local news that has come up in Los Angeles in a generation, till almost every other daily newspaper in the city had printed it—viz., the complete closing of the city's options on Owens River, which made available for publication the facts of the city's huge waterworks undertaking.

Anybody but a simpleton or a poor old has-been in his dotage would sing very low over a failure like that; but the impossible Lowenthal insists on emphasizing his own incompetency.

The simple, straightforward fact is that The Times got the anxiously-awaited news of the consummation of the deal before anybody else, and printed it. Here was the completion of negotiations that had been going for a month for a new water supply of stupendous proportions and of thrilling interest to the city. Wideawake newspaper men were watching for the releasing news of the final stroke, but the sleepy Lowenthal did not hear of it till it had been published to the four corners of the earth. The Times got the full verified news, and gave undisputed facts and authorities, electrifying the whole Southland. The "last spike," so long awaited, had been driven and the statement was officially made. Twenty-four hours after The Times had this great news, of $23,000,000 size, Lowenthal got it.

And now, unable to swallow his chagrin, the impossible immigrant is making a cry-baby of himself—worse than that. He has been trying to make a scapegoat of Mayor McAleer, who had nothing to do with the news. And he (Lowenthal) has resorted to the oft-exposed and cheap-nasty trick of the Examiner, of printing under a person's name things he didn't say, putting into his mouth words he didn't use, and making it appear as if the article were actually written by the person named. The Examiner does this dirty trick almost every day of its impossible life. Fudge for Cry-Baby Lowenthal! Those who wish to peruse his weeps should read the Examiner. The news will be printed in The Times, as heretofore.

WARNED WIFE AGAINST SHOCK.

DELIBERATE PLANS LAID BY A SAN DIEGO SUICIDE.

Carefully Arranged His Affairs and Then Shot Himself While Family Was at Church—Body of Well-known Architect and Engineer Found Floating in the Bay.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—J. W. Mount, 63 years of age, who came to this city from Kentucky some years ago, committed suicide in a remarkably deliberate manner today. In the morning he excused himself to his wife from attending church with her, and she went alone. On her return Mrs. Mount found on the door of their residence on Eleventh street a note from her husband in which he told her to get a neighbor to accompany her when she entered the house. Mrs. Mount did as requested. Accompanied by neighbors she entered the dwelling and found her husband dead in a chair. He had shot himself, the bullet entering the abdomen and traversing upward. Prior to killing himself, he had arranged his papers and put his affairs in such shape as to make sure that his wife would have all the property he left.

BODY FOUND FLOATING.

The dead body of Charles C. Woodmansee was found in the bay this afternoon. Woodmansee lived with his father, Daniel Woodmansee, at No. 1061 Fifteenth street. He left home yesterday afternoon and as he had spoken of going to Los Angeles the elder Woodmansee thought little of his absence. He was an architect and engineer by profession, but had not been engaged in his calling recently. He was in the habit of fishing in the bay, and the supposition is that he fell from one of the wharves and was drowned, being unable to swim. The body will be sent to Minneapolis where deceased formerly lived.

PERSONAL.

Ellsworth Ingals of the United States Department of the Interior is registered at the Hollenbeck.

Twenty-six school teachers, most of them from Wilkesbarre, Pa., arrived in a party at the Van Nuys Hotel yesterday. The party has just come down from a visit to the Portland fair, having previously gone up to Alaska. Miss Elizabeth Austin of Wilkesbarre is in charge.

Arthur V. Nelson and wife of No. 409 West Twenty-first street returned yesterday from a three months' trip to Bangor, Me., visiting New York City and many other large eastern cities; also some of the most noted summer resorts, including Coney Island and Bar Harbor.

MANY AUTO PARTIES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA THEIR MECCA.

SANTA BARBARA, July 30.—There were probably more automobile parties in the city today than at any time during the summer. Besides the three big Fresno machines that have been here for three days, there are half a dozen that have come in from the north and the south and are staying here over Sunday.

G. A. Handcock of Los Angeles came up yesterday in his large Pope-Toledo car with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strong as his guests. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Graves and son of Los Angeles made the run over the mountains with them in his Cleveland car. They report having passed George Hensley on his record-breaking trip on the Casitas grade, and say that that machine was climbing the mountain at a terrific speed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hammond came up from Los Angeles in a White car, and Dr. and Mrs. Cochran and Miss Sabin are with the same party making the trip in another car.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bryant, Miss Ruby Bryant, Miss Lucile Bryant and Elwood Bryant of Santa Maria arrived yesterday from the north in a Reliance car. They are registered at the Mascarel and will remain for a week.

John C. Riordan and party of Salinas came in yesterday in a Pierce car and are registered at the San Marcos Hotel. They will spend a few days in this city.

ANOTHER ENDURANCE RUN.

A movement is on foot in San Francisco to pull off another endurance run from that city south to Santa Barbara to arrive here at the same time that the Los Angeles automobilists come in next Saturday afternoon. Suitable trophies are to be put up for these events and this city will then be full of automobiles.

Every garage in the city will probably be called into service, and it is probable that other buildings will be used to shelter the automobiles.

RIFLE PRACTICE.

Owing to the various other attractions yesterday there was but a small number of marksmen at Schuetzen Park for the regular shoot of the Turners, but the scores were very good. Joe Singer was again the high gun, the scores being as follows:

Joe Singer, 221; Carl Gollmer, 197; Chris Krempel, 191; R. J. Fraser, 191; John Hauerwaas, 188; William Frick, 187; Hy Pfirrmann, 175; A. Marquis, 173; V. H. Tisdale, 171; Claude Black, 168; A. Wagniere, 168; Frank Huebsch, 163.

WHAT WILL VERDICT BE?

Bennington Court of Inquiry to Begin Sessions Today.

Proceedings to be Shielded by Official Secrecy.

So-called Bulletins All That the Public Will Get.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow morning on board the flagship Chicago, the court of inquiry to probe the Bennington disaster will begin its sittings. These will be very private, and, it is understood, will be held mornings and afternoons. The members of the court are Commodore Stevenson, president; Capt. Moore, commanding the Chicago, and Capt. Phelps of Mare Island, with Lieut. Moody of the Chicago as judge advocate.

The convening of the court tomorrow will mark the beginning of the third stage of investigation into the boiler explosion on the gunboat. The first stage covered the work of the boards of inquiry and inquest appointed by Commodore Lucien Young, of the Bennington, almost immediately after the explosion. The second stage covered the work of the board appointed by Capt. Drake. The facts and conclusions reached by those preliminary bodies will be weighed by Admiral Goodrich's court, beginning tomorrow. The ultimate findings will be transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, and through him to the President.

The personal exclusiveness of Admiral Goodrich is not arousing any great degree of enthusiasm among the newspaper men on the ground. They think it would be quite proper for him to give them an audience, say once daily. This he has declined to do, but has delegated his flag lieutenant to stand between himself, the press and the public. At 10 o'clock in the morning and again at 6 in the evening, newspaper representatives have the privilege of boarding the Chicago in the stream and receiving from the flag lieutenant, or in his absence, from the officer of the deck, half a dozen typewritten sentences ironically called a bulletin.

The infinitesimal quantity of news contained in these brief and laggard sheets may be judged from the following, given out by the officer of the deck at 6 o'clock this evening:

FLAGSHIP CHICAGO, SAN DIEGO, July 30, 1905.—For the press: Commodore Stevenson reported to Admiral Goodrich yesterday afternoon for temporary duty with Pacific squadron as president of Court of Inquiry. "As soon as temporary machinery (wrecking and flushing pump and lighting system) is installed on board Bennington will be moved out into the stream and anchored, probably Monday. Fortune returned to Mare Island yesterday.

"No further developments or news to date."

[Signed] L. SARGENT,
Lieutenant U. S. Navy, Flag Lieut.

P. S. Six p.m. Capt. Phelps reported for duty as member of court of inquiry. Court is now completed. Commodore Stevenson, Capt. Moore, Capt. Phelps, Lieut. Moody, Judge Advocate.

As an example of yesterday's news day after tomorrow, such a bulletin as the foregoing deserves recording.

Lieut. Sargent is a courteous, and certainly an efficient officer, but as a proponent of reasonable publicity he will never succeed under the repressive orders of Admiral Goodrich.

It is impossible at this time to say how long the court of inquiry will sit, or whether its sessions will be concluded here or in San Francisco.

The report from the hospitals tonight is that Mueller and Hallett, the two Bennington men whose condition is most serious, are holding their own and that the rest of the injured are doing well.

All This Week.

We are not a special sale store and do not purchase goods for special sale purposes. It is seldom that we make reductions in any of our furniture for we always price our goods as low as possible and such pricing will not stand further reducing. The reductions that are made are on our regular stock of good goods that are in every way strictly first class.

In order to cut down our stock and dispose of a few broken lines we have decided to make a reduction of 25 per cent. on our entire line of lace curtains for all this week, also to make some sweeping reductions on our line of drapery materials. No person in Los Angeles can afford to overlook this opportunity. When you can secure Niles Pease curtains and draperies at 25 per cent. or more less than regular we are sure you will not miss the chance. It is advisable for you to purchase a little supply now even though you have no present need of them. It will not be long before you will have plenty of use for them and you may not be able to secure them at such a reduction again for some time.

Drapery Materials Reduced

We are a little overstocked with drapery materials and for this means of cutting down our stock as soon as possible. These reductions will be in effect all this week.

CARLTON MAKES A CONFESSION.

ADMITS HE IS M'CANDLESS AND ALSO MARTINEZ.

Under the First Alias He Deserted from the Army and Under the Second He Robbed a Birmingham Woman—Acknowledges He is a Bigamist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frederick Carlton, who has been held for several weeks by the Brooklyn police on a trivial charge, so that they may secure evidence to prove that he is a bigamist, a poisoner of women and a modern Bluebeard, today confessed in a most matter-of-fact way that he is McCandless, the army deserter, who was eventually discharged from the service; that he is Martinez, the man who robbed a Birmingham, Ala., woman, and that he is a bigamist.

It was characteristic of the man that he made these startling admissions coolly, smilingly and with a degree of cold-blooded indifference that staggered the police, who have been trying since his arrest to make him confess.

Carlton has also confessed that he was born in Moberly, Mo., and enlisted in the army under that name. Carlton, however, is believed to be weakening, and eventually the police think he will make another startling confession.

REV. RAWLINS CONVICTED.

ACCESSORY TO MURDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VALDOSTA (Ga.) July 30.—Rev. J. [illegible] Rawlins early today was found guilty of accessory to the murder of the children of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Carter, and unless a higher court intervenes, Rev. Rawlins and his sons, Allen and Jesse, and Alf Moore, a negro, will have to hang. The Rawlins boys and Moore were found guilty of murder some time ago.

The Rawlins and Carter were for years ministers in the Methodist church. A feud started, and Rawlins planned to wipe out the Carter family. It was arranged that Moore and Millard Jesse and Leonard Rawlins were to go to the Carter home and kill the parents while they sat at the supper table. Then the children ran out, they were to be shot down.

The assassins, however, arrived after the evening meal, and could not shoot through the windows at their victims. The noise caused Willie and Fannie Carter to run into the yard. Instantly, the guns of the murderers spoke, and the girl fell dead. The boy, shot through the body, dragged himself into the house, and told who had done the firing.

All night long, Rev. and Mrs. Carter watched in their home. Through crevices in the log house, the Carter's could see the assassins creeping about the house, but whether their daughter was dead or not they could not learn. Finally, Rev. Carter reached his rifle and fired through a crack in the door. The shot caused the murderers to flee, before confessed the plot.

SETTLING A SEDUCTION CASE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To save her husband of two weeks from being compelled to serve a penitentiary term for seducing eighteen-year-old Lottie Conrad, Margaret A. Collins this morning secured a divorce from Robert E. J. Collins so as to permit him to marry the woman for whose ruin he is now in jail. To help out the fourteen-day bride in her efforts to save Collins from a felon's cell, the prosecuting attorney's office will act with the prisoner, despite the court's decree that neither party to the divorce can contract a marriage within six months. The prosecuting attorney's office is willing that Collins, in charge of a deputy sheriff, should be taken out of the State and be allowed to marry the girl, who, it is claimed, is in a delicate condition.

Lottie Conrad is willing to marry the cast-off husband of Margaret Collins, and the man now in a cell in the County Jail is willing to be married.

THIS SETTLES BROWN.

Notorious "Blind Pig" at Toluca Again Raided and Large Quantity of Liquor Seized.

Ben Brown of "blind-pig" fame is now a prisoner in the County Jail in Constable De La Monte's strong box is a stock of liquors sufficient to run a saloon. Brown will stay where he is for some time, because he is unable to give $1500 bond and because, further, there is almost a certainty that he will receive a stiff sentence.

Brown's joint at Toluca was raided last Saturday night by a posse of officers headed personally by Assistant District Attorney Fleming. Constable De La Monte with Deputy Constables Hall, Thomas and Simpson, descended upon the joint while a dance was in progress. Scores of men and women who had been working in the fruit-packing camps near Toluca were having a high old time last Saturday night debauch and the booze was flowing as freely as if it were free. It wasn't free and Brown was taking in lots of money. Those in charge were drunk enough to be reckless and even the appearance of the officers did not cause the popping corks to stop until they arrested Brown and seized his supply of liquor. The dance broke up, although no resistance was offered to the officers.

Dozens of cases of bottled beer, several barrels of beer, demijohns of whisky and wine and a goodly quantity of other intoxicants were seized by the police. As showing the enormous sales which Brown has been making, the police seized two gunny-sacks full of empty metallic caps used to seal the bottles.

Brown was fined $250 last week in a justice court for conducting a "blind pig," but the lesson intended by that fine seems to have been lost on him. It is the intention of the District Attorney's office to insist upon the maximum penalty this time.

Took His Last Cent.

While returning to his home at No. 1 Mono street, George Holland, a miner, was held up at 10:30 o'clock last night by two highwaymen, one of whom held a revolver under his nose while the other relieved him of all the cash on his person. Fortunately for Holland, if not so for the highwaymen, this amounted to exactly $2.15. The victim complains bitterly to the police that the robbers had not the consideration to leave him the 15 cents for breakfast.

DIDN'T GET CLOTHES.

Detectives Refuse to Assist Santa Monica Tailor's Original Plan to Recover Property.

The wonderful detective work of L. Leter, Santa Monica tailor, was frustrated in its fruition only by the inability of the police to appreciate his particular brand of Sherlockism.

Leter was hot on the chase of an unpaid for suit of clothes last night. The clothes came up from Santa Monica during the afternoon on the back of a suddenly retiring restaurant keeper. As long as the clothes remained on the stalwart form of the hasher Leter saw no opportunity of recovering his property. He watched and bided his time until the man retired at the Hotel Arcade, and peeking in through the window saw the coveted garments spread out on a chair. Then he hustled away to the Police Station where he demanded that Detective Kelley go down to the hotel with him, and hold the slumbering restaurant man in bed while he swooped down o nthe clothes and carried them off. But the police declined to be party to such forceful reduction of a good citizen to a state of nature, and Leter is still devising ways and means to get back his clothes.

Employee of Cement Contractor in Jail Charged With Having Failed to Return Certain Collections.

Al Mason, a cement finisher, was arrested yesterday at his home in Long Beach, on a warrant left with the Long Beach officers by Constable Jack Adams, charging felony embezzlement. Mason was employed by T. H. Henry & Co., cement contractors, and it is alleged in the complaint upon which the warrant was issued that he collected about $80 from customers of the firm and failed to make an accounting. Mason refused to discuss the matter yesterday, saying he had an ample defense which would be presented at the proper time.

Wade in Franklin county, while the officer was attempting to arrest him for illicit distilling, was captured today twenty miles south of Roanoke. He was hurried to this city and placed in jail to prevent lynching

Quillinan Brought Back.

Edward Quillinan, formerly an actor with the Ulrich stock company, was brought back from San Francisco last night by Police Secretary Singleton to answer to a charge of grand larceny.

It is charged that Quillinan stole a dress suit case filled with valuables from former Manager Rice of that company in the Saddlerock restaurant recently. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest, and Quillinan was apprehended in San Francisco, and held until the arrival of the Los Angeles officers. There are said to be other charges against him.

Mrs. Shupe Convicted.

MONTPELIER (Idaho) July 30.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Caddie Shupe, on trial for the murder of Arthur Douglas, a bartender, at her home in Paris, Idaho, the night of July 1, brought in a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, with a recommendation for mercy.

Wife Beater Fines.

PENDLETON (Or.) July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edwin Switzler, a wealthy young man of this city, pulled his wife out of bed and severely beat her yesterday morning. Mrs. Switzler fled to the street, followed by her husband, who continued to maltreat her. Neighbors came to the rescue, and Switzler fled, narrowly escaping being mobbed. When he learned that a complaint had been lodged against him, Switzler hurriedly left the city in an automobile at 11:30 o'clock last night. Papers for a divorce were filed by the wife.

Pen Points

We must not forget that the new water will also prove a boon to the milkmen.

"None but the brave deserve the fair." That's why Frank Wiggins has captured Portland.

People are often admonished to husband their money. Perhaps it is better to do that with it than to wife it.

In private life a man who says what he doesn't mean is called a liar. In international politics he is called a diplomat.

Mr. Depew should be warned in advance that when he makes his forthcoming statement, all suspicion of joking must be eliminated from the same. No funny business goes.

No man ever traveled farther or more successfully than Chauncey Depew on the theory of "Laugh and the world laughs with you." But he can't make it stick any longer.

All that China will be allowed to do at the peace conference is to state her attitude. It will cost nothing to allow her to do so, and after she has done it, no time will be deemed necessary in discussing it.

If the Chinese persist in their boycott, some quarters will regard it as a big blow. And this is doubtless the truth. Unless you allow a boycott to scare you, you'll find it is nothing but a big blow—100 per cent. wind.

"Scotty," the Death Valley Croesus, is not the man we thought he was. He spent only $22,000 on his trip to New York, and has made California look cheap in the eyes of the East. He should have spent at least a million.

If John D. Rockefeller and Tom Johnson should oppose each other as rival candidates for the Cleveland Mayoralty, the voters of that town would have the same choice that the man had who was between the devil and the deep sea.

If France and England have learned to love each other, as reported, miracles have not ceased, and the world would be fully justified in looking forward to a pourparler having as its object the establishment of friendly relations between the devil and holy water.

Walter Scott has had his chance and failed to make good. Now, if it really becomes necessary to impress those eastern people with the fact that Californians are made of money, let us send back there one of our real estate agents, who has been operating in beach property.

There can be no good reason, whatever, to doubt that John D. Rockefeller contemplates going into politics. He has already cornered everything else in sight that has any money in it. If he should now sail in and form a graft trust, he might then be fully justified in regarding his life work as being complete in every particular.

The Examiner makes a weak attempt to excuse itself for its failure to print the news, by falling back on the subterfuge of a contribution from Mayor McAleer on the Owens River sensation. The Mayor is not a contributor to the Examiner, and the attempt to make him appear as such is a cheap trick, so old that it has whiskers on its teeth.

If Mr. Rockefeller should become a candidate for Mayor of Cleveland, it ought to be hard to beat him. He knows how men are usually elected to office. His experience has been practical. He knows what it is that arouses the enthusiasm and persuades voters. The only question for him to consider, therefore, is, can he spare the money?

"Bob" Evans is right about our navy being too small, but as to his statement that it is not large enough to meet one of the first-class powers, the admiral may be a little too pessimistic. With himself and a few more of our fighting men behind the guns, we'd take our chances. We might get licked, but the other fellow would certainly know he had been in a fight.

The Kaiser proposes that Russia ally herself with Germany, Austria and Italy, and let France go with England and Japan. Now, if that should happen, and they should all line up against one another—France, England and Japan on one side, and Germany, Austria, Italy and Russia on the other—it would make a fairly interesting scrap. If such a war should ever begin it might be well to think matters over carefully before placing any bets on the result.

It is now feared that the peace negotiations may reach an impasse. This is the French and also the diplomatic word for deadlock, a state of affairs that frequently occurs in the politics of this country, especially in State Legislatures, when a United States Senator is to be elected. Unfortunately, the peace envoys would be unable to break an impasse in the logical manner employed by members of our State Legislatures. Neither side at Portsmouth could sell out and ever again appear before their constituencies.

RAILROAD TICKETS.

A recent dispatch from Chicago announced that, within the next week or two, all through trains departing from Chicago probably will be accompanied by "train agents," who will be placed on the trains to detect and confiscate tickets fraudulently sold by "scalpers."

This suggests an observation that has been made several times in these columns, namely, as to whether the complicated system of tickets employed by the American railroads is wise. In Europe, if you want to travel, say from London to Aberdeen, a distance of six hundred miles, or for a longer distance on the continent of Europe, you buy a pasteboard of the regulation railroad ticket size, which is stamped with the date of issue, and that is all there is to it, the operation requiring perhaps half a minute, or even less. Moreover, that ticket, like a bank note, is good for anyone who presents it, and furthermore, it is good several years hence.

Note the difference in this country. If you are going to travel from Los Angeles to Chicago, you present yourself, if you are wise, at the ticket office at least twenty minutes before the time for departure of the train. Then, after standing in a line, like a queue at the door of a theater when a star performer is going to appear, you work your way up to the perspiring ticket clerk, who proceeds to make you out a paper tapeworm, something less than a yard long, containing a lot of written matter, including a description, more or less flattering—generally less—of your personal appearance, in case you should attempt the heinous offense of transferring this transportation privilege to some other party.

The aggregate amount of labor involved in making out and keeping check of these complicated railroad tickets must represent several million dollars a year, apart from the inconvenience which it imposes upon patrons. Nor is this all. The practice leads to an elaborate system of "scalping" railroad tickets, which gives support to thousands of people throughout the country, who flourish in spite of much drastic legislation that has been passed against them, but not having the moral support of the public, such laws have never been successfully enforced. Yet, again, this practice leads to a vast amount of hypocrisy and lying, and the employment by the companies of an army of "spotters," here, again, causing the expenditure by the companies of hundreds of thousands of dollars every year.

In view of these facts, it may reasonably be asked why it would not be to the advantage of the companies, as well as the public, for them to simplify the present method of purchasing transportation on the railroads.

THE CHINESE BOYCOTT.

The Chinese boycott against the purchase of American products has assumed proportions that call for comment. Although the Chinese Empire contains 390,000,000 people—about one-fourth of the population of the globe—its total imports from all countries in the year 1900 were but $222,000,000 (in round numbers) and of that amount only $17,000,000, or one-thirteenth, came from the United States. Their exports to the United States the same year—$15,000,000—nearly offset the imports, and if the Chinese merchants should cease to buy of us, they would not be able to sell to us, and would, therefore, hurt themselves quite as much as they would hurt us.

What has caused this sudden determination to boycott American goods? The boycott has been threatened for some months, but has not assumed practical shape till the last few days, when some unfilled orders given to a San Francisco firm were countermanded by a Shanghai firm. It is said that Chinese students, educated in America and Europe, have prepared and disseminated literature calculated to create a sentiment against the American people in consequence of the existence of our exclusion law. But this exclusion law has been in existence since 1892, and it is probable that this sudden demonstration of feeling arises from an injudicious and harsh method of examining and catechising immigrants from China, and more particularly, subjecting merchants and students who are entitled to come within our borders, to what they deem indignities.

President Roosevelt had already taken cognizance of these offenses, and in vigorous language has ordered their discontinuance. The general tone of the press has supported him in that attitude. If these facts were known to the Chinese merchants they would probably raise the boycott, unless they have a deeper purpose in view, namely, the abrogation of the exclusion treaty in its entirety.

It must be confessed there is one cause for present dissatisfaction which is not without plausibility. While the exclusion law is made rigidly applicable to the masses of Chinese people, their kindred race, the Japanese, are permitted to come to this country without any restrictions, and the Chinaman naturally, and with reason, asks why this discrimination? And it must be confessed thoughtful Americans have begun to ask the same question.

The policy which excludes Chinese cheap labor should be made equally applicable to all the Oriental nations of the Mongol race. We, on the Pacific Coast are sufficiently acquainted with their racial characteristics to know that they cannot assimilate with the Caucasian race, and by their presence here in large numbers they introduce an undesirable element in our midst.

But suppose the Chinese government should insist on the abrogation of the exclusion treaty in toto, or continue the policy of boycotting our trade; what course should be pursued by the American government in that event? While our merchants, and especially those of the Pacific Coast which would be most directly affected, would regret the loss of their valuable and growing trade, yet they are sufficiently patriotic to make some sacrifices for the general welfare, and certainly would protest against letting down the bars to an unchecked immigration of the Chinese.

But we are confident that if the President's new regulations regarding the treatment of Chinese merchants, students, travelers and officials, are read on the other side, and the friendly spirit which animated the President in their promulgation is understood, our friends across the Pacific will recall their boycott and resume amicable commercial relations with the American people.

THE FOUNTS OF SONG.

"What is the song I am singing?"
Said the pine-tree to the wave:
"Do you not know the song
You have sung so long
Down in the dim green alleys of the sea,
And where the great blind tides go swinging
Mysteriously,
And where the countless herds of the billows are hurl'd
On all the wild and lonely beaches of the world?"

"Ah, Pine-tree," sighed the wave,
"I have no song but what I catch from thee;
Far off I hear thy strain
Of infinite sweet pain
That floats along the lovely phantom land,
I sigh, and murmur it o'er and o'er and o'er,
When 'neath the slow compelling hand
That guides me back and far from the loved shore,
I wander long
Where never falls the breath of any song,
But only the loud, empty, crashing roar
Of seas swung this way and that for evermore."

"What is the song I am singing?"
Said the poet to the pine:
"Do you not know the song
You have sung so long
Here in the dim green alleys of the woods
Where the wild winds go wandering
In all moods,
And whisper often o'er and o'er,
Or in tempestuous clamors roar
Their dark eternal secret evermore?"

"Oh Poet," said the pine,
"Thine
Is that song!
Not mine!
I have known it, loved it, long!
Nothing I know of what the wild winds cry
Through dusk and storm and night,
Or prophesy
When tempests whirl us with their awful might.
Only, I know that when
The poet's voice is heard
Among the woods
The infinite pain from out the hearts of men
Is sweeter than the voice of wave or branch or bird
In these dumb solitudes."
—[Fiona Macleod, in the Academy.

Wanted a Correction.

A minister who had preached a sermon on the murder of Abel by Cain was called upon during the week by a worried-looking man with an humble request.

"You mind that sermon you preached last Sunday forenoon?" said the visitor.

"Yes."

"About a man called Cain that killed his brother?"

"Certainly."

"Well, next Sunday would you kindly explain that he's no relative of Laine who keeps the shop in High street? You see, everybody has been thinking it was me or some friend of mine."—[Tit-Bits.

Every Dog Has His Night.

Judge Warren dismissed the case against William Paschall on Montana street, in which he was charged with maintaining a dog kennel which was a nuisance. In dismissing the case, the court held that dogs had few pleasures, and that they had a right to "bay the moon," it being one of the time-honored amusements of the species.—[Butte News.

At the Churches Yesterday.

Welcome to Hough.

REV. GEORGE A. HOUGH of the California Street Methodist Church of San Francisco preached the morning sermon yesterday at the First Methodist Church, where he was formerly junior pastor, during the pastorate of the late Dr. Cantine. He was greeted by a congregation that filled every part of the auditorium and galleries, for he was very popular when in discharge of his duty here and was an especial favorite with the young people of the church. He preached from the text: "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given a name which is above every name." He said in the outset that not long since he saw a new book just brought out by a Unitarian publishing house entitled "The Supremacy of Jesus," and it was this that gave him the subject for his sermon. He called attention to the fact that the supremacy of the lowly Nazarene is growing upon, and becoming the theme of the world. He walks down the stairways of the centuries with the tread of a conqueror. Emerson says "His name is plowed into the world." Jesus never wrote a book, but He inspired more books than any other man.

"Just now," he said, "Great Britain is all stirred up over a new book entitled 'When It Was Dark,' which pictures the world in its darkness without this Man of Galilee. He never founded an institution, except a little handful of Christians who founded the church, yet all the institutions of the world were inspired by Him. Jesus Christ was symmetrical, in proof of which notice these three points: First, we say with Pilate 'Behold the man.' We sometimes lose sight of the humanity of Jesus, but it is just as essential that we believe His humanity as His divinity. We are here today as one of the fruits of the incarnation. As we look on Jesus as the man, the human and the divine meet. We have access to God because His Son is our brother man, bone and flesh like us. The incarnation shows the ideals that might be ours through Him. Jesus came in the flesh to teach us how to love, to suffer, to think, and to teach us what we might become. He was tempted in all points like we are, but He lived a sinless life because entirely obedient to the Father. It is a great thing to have a character that rings true, steadfast and unmovable.

"The second point that we notice in the symmetrical character of Jesus is that of a teacher. Most instructors now are specialists, there are only a few things that they know real well, but Jesus was not limited to a single subject; the whole realm of knowledge was His. The finest language in the world is the language of Jesus. He came to teach the way of God—a great teacher because of His methods, a sincere teacher who taught what He believed and believed what He taught. There was no discordance between His teaching and His life. He used the lecture method, the class method and the individual method. He taught with authority and proposed Himself as sufficient for all the problems of life—a name above every name as a teacher.

"The third point is embodied in this: 'Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sins.' The people needed, more than a teacher, a great hand stretched out to save the world. Above and beyond all earthly conceptions of heroism we put Jesus, our Savior, who left all and suffered so much that He might save you and me. But for sin, all the unharmonies of life would be evaded, but sin has cost the race its heritage. It contaminates, enslaves and enthralls us, but Jesus came to deliver us from bondage and make us free. Though we cannot see Him we can feel the pull of His love pulling us Godward."

In conclusion Mr. Hough spoke in a tender, personal way to his congregation. "A flood of memories," he said, "comes over me as I stand in this pulpit, and I am glad to look into your faces and tell you of this Jesus. But how many familiar faces are gone—some to other churches, some to far-away mission fields, and many are looking down upon us from the galleries of heaven, and this same Jesus, as He looks down upon us says 'toil on, labor on, believe on' and some day He will say 'It is enough; come up higher.'"

The Church at Work.

At the First Christian Church on yesterday morning the Rev. A. C. Smither preached his concluding sermon in his vacation series on "The Church." He spoke on "The Church at Work." He said in part:

"We come today to the practical feature of the church, its practical service to the world and its adherents. This must be the ultimate test of its worth.

"The church is a worshipping body. One day in the week is set apart for rest and worship. This day has a tremendous influence in human affairs. It is a great book to man. In the church is found the Lord's supper around which the earnest followers of Jesus went for worship. The gathering of people to a common place with a common purpose and that purpose to worship Christ and glorify God has a tremendous influence over our religious life and character. It furnishes rest, spiritual refreshment, and is essential to the spiritual healthfulness of the followers of Christ. No man who habitually absents himself from the house of the Lord can long be a devout follower of Jesus.

"The church is a teaching body. Upon it was laid by Jesus the great task of teaching all nations, bringing them to a personal knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. This task and service is the church's apology for the Sunday-school which, with its far-reaching influence is only the church at work teaching the scriptures. It is in the execution of this service that the preaching of the word is maintained at home and missionary work is carried on in home and foreign fields. The church that does not faithfully teach the principles of Jesus must soon perish off the earth.

"The church is a ministering body. Here as elsewhere its illustrious teacher sets the example as he always 'went about doing good.' His ministry was to body and soul. He went about healing the sick, ministering to human suffering and leading men into spiritual fellowship with God. Like its master the true church must minister to the world's sorrow and need, must care for the sick, help the weak, and give comfort to the dying. The world is a vast hospital filled with the wounded and suffering. We must serve it. The new standard of greatness introduced into the world is the standard of service. He who serves best his fellow man serves best his God, and who serves God serves his little ones. Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these little ones ye have done it unto me, said the great Teacher.

"The church is a witnessing body. 'Ye are my witnesses,' said Jesus to his disciples. It is our duty to bear witness for Jesus to the world. This can be done by lip and by character. The world's Bible is the follower of Jesus. Man judges the Christ by the character of His followers. The perpetuity of the church on the earth depends upon the fidelity of the followers of Christ to their Master. Through them His purposes as related to men may be accomplished or frustrated. It is a terrible responsibility this, that we are channels of the Almighty to bring the sparkling waters of divine truth to fertilize and irrigate the barren desert places of the world."

"Mr. Shaw of Persia."

Owing to the effects of the great heat which has prevailed in the French capital, his imperial majesty the Shah of Persia, has been ordered by his physicians to visit the United States. His Majesty is declared to be suffering from melancholia. The prediction may be ventured that before the Persian monarch has completed his visit the Honorable Elihu Root and all his subordinates will be the victims of the same disorder.

It will devolve upon the State Department to receive, amuse and entertain Muzaffar-ed-din, and the experience of other foreign offices which have undertaken the task warants the prediction that even jobs on the Panama Canal will soon be preferred to positions in the State Department by persons of acuteness and discrimination.

It is not known how many of his wives will accompany His Majesty and his melancholia, but he is always on the lookout for additional partners of his bosom and his pleasant oriental fashion of offering to buy any lady who takes his fancy will tend to preserve Mr. Root from ennui during the imperial visit.

The practice of butchering small animals in the royal apartments to furnish meat for the imperial table is also likely to cause strained relations between the State Department and the hotel-keeper in whose establishment the Persian party is quartered. The prospect is such that Mr. Root may well regret that he gave up the peaceable and profitable pursuit of the law for the gilded slavery of diplomatic duties.—[Chicago Chronicle.

OIL KING'S FATHER.

Story Told in Cleveland of the Great Nerve of William A. Rockefeller.

[Cleveland Dispatch to Chicago Tribune:] The mystery surrounding the disappearance from the public eye of William A. Rockefeller, father of the chief of Standard Oil, has resulted in reminding old residents of Cleveland of many incidents connected with the life of the father of the richest man in the world.

[illegible] of John D. Rockefeller, on March 28, 1839, his father ceased to be a resident of Cleveland or Cuyahoga county. At the time of the woman's death her husband had become only a memory in his old haunts—Strongsville and Parma. Next to the question of where William A. Rockefeller is, comes the query why he is there, wherever that place may be. He is not living with any child or grandchild. He is far, it appears, from the scenes of his youth and his middle age.

Two explanations are given. One corresponds to Miss Tarbell's picture of his character and habits in McClure's Magazine. It is said by those who claim to know that he is simply kept out of the way; that he is suppressed because he is not a person to be proud of or to be made an inmate of a careful man's home. Clevelanders who put the matter in this light picture him as the traveling quack doctor, the mysterious wanderer of Miss Tarbell's pages.

The other side is strikingly different. Men who know the world and have both perception and force of character can be found in Cleveland who say that William A. Rockefeller was as clean and scrupulous in speech and action as any one would wish—at least in his later years. The authorities declare that they knew the father of the richest man in the world as a kindly, sympathetic, generous man, liked by all who came much in contact with him. They account for his departure from Cleveland, long before his wife died—her home to the end being in this city—on the ground that he suffered greatly from asthma and was obliged to flee from the winter climate of Northern Ohio.

William A. Rockefeller often returned in the summer, always with new stories of his adventures and observations in the West. He visited Cleveland several times after the death of his wife. But no one who will talk of his comings and goings seems to know when he was here last or where he went after his departure.

One theory, at least, is never thought of in connection with his disappearance by any one who knew the man. No one doubts that even in his old age he was well able to take care of himself. It would not be imagined that he fell a victim to foul play, even if Frank Rockefeller had not stated, a few days ago, that his father was alive and well. One story will illustrate the readiness of William A. Rockefeller to protect himself when he was far advanced in years.

On a far western trip—one of the many unexplained journeys which marked his career from boyhood—he found himself obliged to choose between a night without shelter and lodging in an inn which bore a most evil name for mysterious disappearances of men after they had entered its doors. Rockefeller took the chance of death for the sake of comfort. He had a fellow wayfarer for company, his roommate being glad of the vigorous old man's society in what was too evidently a nest of robbers.

Before going to bed the landlord proposed shooting at a lighted candle in the shed of the tavern. Loafers hanging around the bar shot with varying degrees of skill. The new arrivals declined. Urged by the innkeeper, William A. Rockefeller at last consented to see what he could do. He shot off the wick of the candle three or four times in as many attempts, using a big revolver. The master of the tavern did not forget his marksmanship.

When the travelers went to their room they noticed that the door had no lock. Thereupon they decided to take turns keeping watch till morning. While Rockefeller was on guard, sitting in a chair tilted against the footboard of the bed, he was keyed up to the highest pitch of vigilance by the sound of stealthy steps on the stair, near his door. It was then past midnight. The door was cautiously pushed partly open and the light of a dark lantern slowly stole about the bed. It showed the crack shot of the evening with two revolvers covering vital parts of the landlord's murderous person.

"Hold on!" cried that cutthroat, "I've made a mistake."

"Wait a bit," commanded his guest. "Come in here; I want to see you. You may have made a mistake, but don't do it again. One of us will be ready for such mistakes all night. It's dangerous."

"Better Than Cocaine."

Surgeons in this country will await with curiosity, not to say impatience, further particulars concerning a new anaesthetic, the discovery of which is briefly reported from Berlin. It is said to be adapted to local use, like cocaine, but superior to that drug in that it gives rise to no undesirable after effect. Several weeks ago a consular report received at Washington contained a similar announcement. To a vegetable alkaloid, found in West Africa and called "yohimbine," the properties just mentioned were ascribed, and an Italian oculist declared that it was admirably suited to the work of inducing insensibility in the eyeball. In the story which now comes from Germany a different name [illegible]

"I am called Johann Andree, Your Majesty," was the answer.

"Andree!" said the Emperor. "Then you are the namesake of a very celebrated man. Did you know that?"

"Your Majesty means Andree, the polar explorer?"

"Of course! How did you come to hear of him?"

"My captain told me that my name was the same as his, Your Majesty."

"And what else has your captain told you about him?"

"Very little, Your Majesty. He only said that he wished the other Andree had taken me with him."

"I don't think your captain meant that to be taken quite seriously," laughed the Emperor, and, slipping a

COLLEGE PRESIDENT BAPTIZES CHINESE.

AN interesting service took place yesterday afternoon in the Chinese Sunday-school at the Methodist mission rooms on Los Angeles street. Two young men—Ng Wing and Law Sun Sing—and the six-months old baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Chung Kam, were baptized, Dr. George F. Bovard, president of the University of Southern California officiating. Dr. Bovard has for many years been a steadfast and warm friend of the mission. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of American friends. After the baptism, a communion service was conducted by Dr. Bovard, assisted by Rev. Chan Kiu Sing, the native pastor in charge of the mission.

This Sunday-school has been in existence ever since it was organized in 1887 by Mr. E. W. Spencer, a brother-in-law of Rev. R. S. Cantine, for ten years pastor of First Church. Mr. Spencer was its superintendent for two years and was succeeded by Mrs. Helen A. Birdsall who has been its faithful and competent superintendent for the past sixteen years. Since its organization there have been forty-five Chinese men, women and children baptized into the church and more than four hundred have been connected with the Sunday-school and week-night mission school which was organized in 1891.

This evening school is a men's school and is in session five nights of each week. The common English branches are taught, together with Bible instruction. An Epworth League was formed nine years ago and meets each Thursday evening. Mr. Chung Kam is the president of the league and is also secretary of the Sunday-school. The pastor, Rev. Chan Kiu Sing, preaches at the mission on Sunday evenings and at the Pasadena mission each Wednesday evening.

MINES AND MINING.

NEW ORE BODY IN DELAMAR.

MORE RICHES UNCOVERED IN FAMOUS MINE.

Eleven Hundred Feet Down in the Earth What May be Virtually a New Mine is Opened—The Owner Spoke of Strike While in This City. Big Capitalists in Arizona.

The famous Delamar mine near Pioche, Nev., has recently been the scene of a rich find that is said to equal or surpass anything yet found in that treasure house of Lincoln county. According to reports the discovery is thought to be almost equivalent to the opening of a new mine—a mine within a mine.

The strike was made on the lowest level 1100 feet below the surface and consists of an entirely new body of ore four or five feet wide that is widening so far with depth. There are rich seams that carry as high as $1000 a ton besides good milling ore throughout. This vein was not found in any of the higher levels and its extent is as yet unknown. Work is now going on to determine this. If it is found on the level below the future of the famous mine is likely to be equal or superior to the best days that the famous property has ever known.

Mr. Bamburger of Salt Lake, the present owner of the mine who purchased it from Capt. J. R. Delamar, was in the city a short time since and, while here, he mentioned the strike to a number of mining men declaring his belief that it was one of enormous extent. The Delamar is the deepest mine in the whole of Southern Nevada, the deepest perhaps in the State with the exception of some properties on the Comstock lode and the finding of such a large new lode at this great depth will be a source of great encouragement to other mine owners to go deep as it shows that but little of what is sometimes found below is seen on the surface or in the first or second levels.

The Delamar mine has been worked for many years past. Its discovery was what gave Lincoln county its first lift from virtual bankruptcy, and it was for many years its chief source of wealth and maintenance. It is in the northern part of the county some distance west of the Salt Lake railroad, about 150 miles north of Searchlight, about seventy miles northeast of Johnnie and over 100 miles in the same direction from the Bullfrog district.

In these districts the deepest mine is the Johnnie, now nearing the 600-foot level. It is interesting in this connection to note that only about ten days ago a somewhat similar discovery was made in the Johnnie on the 500-foot level where a parallel vein was found that failed to show up in the higher workings. It is said that the ore of the Johnnie is in appearance very similar to that of the Delamar mine.

IN ARIZONA FIELDS.

PRESCOTT, (Ariz.) July 28.—Hardly a week passes nowadays without at least one party of eastern visitors arriving in Arizona by special car, to investigate some mining enterprise into which they have put much money. A couple of carloads of investors in the Mormon Girl mine in Cave Creek district have just left Phoenix for Prescott, from which point they will be driven to the Reliance mine, an allied property.

At Prescott also is a party of investigation into the "Great Peck" mine, consisting of Congressmen Tawney of Minnesota, Brown of Wisconsin and Goebel of Kentucky. They have gotten together a rather discouraging lot of information, the main feature being that the lower levels of the mine are flooded and the upper levels caved in. It is agreed that an enormous amount of money would be needed to get the property into good shape for working and there is doubt if the committee will recommend the expenditure. The Peck is one of the best known mines of Arizona. Thirty years ago it produced silver ore that was pure enough to be shipped as bullion. But it dropped down into the zone of chloriders. Finally it was bonded by Henry B. Clifford & Co., very largely on the basis of what it had done, much as other promoters bonded the overadvertised Vulture. A large amount of stock in the newly-christened "Great Peck" was sold on the strength of glowing prospectuses—but the realization is something different.

DEEP SHAFT AT JEROME.

The Black Hills Copper Company at Jerome has commenced the work of sinking a 1000-foot shaft on its property. The shaft is in the center of a score of mining locations of promise and much is expected from this first effort to drive development work to any considerable depth. It is probable the Jerome district has the shallowest workings of any mining section of Arizona.

In the same vicinity a sale has just been perfected of the eight claims of Chris. Harryhausen. The property is taken over by L. C. Haynes, who has arranged to stock it in New York. Harryhausen gets $60,000 and a tenth interest in the stock of the new corporation.

A development tunnel, 2200 feet long, is being driven on the Gold Copper Company's property, near Great Republic. The property is one of those that is to be tapped by the proposed electric railroad from the Poland tunnel.

GOLD ROADS RICHEST.

Reports from the Gold Roads mine in Mohave county indicate that that property is the richest ever discovered in Arizona. Gold bars valued at from $25,000 to $50,000 are being turned out from the mill every ten days or so. The product will be considerably in excess of $1,200,000 this year. It is stated that on the 600-foot level is an ore body forty feet wide that will mill $46 to the ton. It is mostly free-milling, the cyanide tanks getting the balance. On an east drift on the 400-foot level a new ore body gives almost incredible assays, running even more than $20,000 to the ton in gold.

"AFTER DEATH."

Tyndall Tells of Personal Experiences in the Line of Psychic Research.

"After Death" was the theme of Dr. Alexander J. McIvor-Tyndall, which attracted more people to Blanchard's Hall last evening than could gain admission. The speaker detailed his own experiences in psychic research, and drew conclusions therefrom.

"The process of death does not change the real man," declared the speaker. "Whatever that subtle something is that distinguishes a person from others on this earth, he takes it with him on leaving the body, and it is reasonable to infer that each person will look upon the invisible life from a different viewpoint, even though there be a similarity in what they report from the other side.

"The science of living is something to be learned. Death does not accomplish it for us. Neither is it consistent for us to look forward to death as a release from our sufferings, because our sufferings are mental—a creation of the carnal mind."

Dr. Tyndall closed the lecture with some interesting examples of the power of the psychic faculties. He will speak next Sunday on the same line of thought. His subject will be "Proofs of Immortality."

Colored Japanese silk waists, plain (untrimmed) in navy, black, brown, cardinal and reseda—regular value $4, sale price $2.75.

$2.50 Waists at $1.00

White lawn waists, lace and embroidery trimmed—broken lines and odd sizes left from recent special sales. There are but one or two of a kind, and all are somewhat soiled from handling; that's why you may choose from regular $2.00 and $2.50 qualities at a dollar each.

Skirts Made Free

When women can get their skirts cut and finished by expert tailors without the slightest expense above the bare cost of materials, trimmings and findings, it would be strange if they shouldn't be anxious to take advantage of the opportunity.

25c Ribbons at 15c

Five-inch all silk messaline taffeta ribbons—of the sort that hundreds of you know to be unmatchable elsewhere at 25c a yard; in white, cream, pink and light blue, as you'll see by the entrance window display, at 15c a yard.

TIME RECORD FOR BASEBALL.

TWO GAMES PLAYED IN THE SPACE GIVEN ONE.

First One Finished in Forty-seven Minutes and Second in Fifty-three, Los Angeles Winning Both—Kelly Electrifies the Fans With a Great Catch in First Game.

Los Angeles, 3; Oakland, 1. First game.
Los Angeles, 5; Oakland, 4. Second game.
First game played in 47 minutes.
Second game played in 53 minutes.
The best baseball seen in Los Angeles this season, because it was the fastest and snappiest, featured the double-header with which Los Angeles and Oakland closed the first half of the season at the Chutes grounds. About 3000 fans watched the incidents from the death of the first half of the game, and while neither of the teams could change their relative positions in the percentage column there was a great interest in the afternoon on account of the rapid fire play and the record-breaking time of the games.

The first game was played in forty-seven minutes and this is believed to be a record for a ball game of eight innings, one-half innings, the full nine being necessary because the locals were ahead from start to finish. No one ever saw such a game here, for the players of each team actually ran off the field when the other team had retired and the out-going players went to their positions and neither time was wasted any time when going to bat. This kind of business was a distinct innovation that drew hearty applause from the spectators.

The second game, which commenced immediately after the end of the first, was also remarkable, for it was played in forty-three minutes, or a total of 1:40 for two games, which is certainly a record for a double-header.

The principal reason for the rapid work was the fact that both teams had to catch the 5 o'clock train for San Francisco and they did it easily.

The first game was noticeable for the appearance of Pitcher Warren Hall of Los Angeles, who has been out of the game for over six weeks on account of a split hand. He went in yesterday in almost perfect shape after his vacation and certainly pitched a good game, allowing Oakland but five hits. He probably would have pitched a shut-out, had not Bobby Byrnes pulled a ball and advanced the runner that came in. Hall had no trouble in holding the Commuters safe while his team behind him apparently had no doubt his ability to win. Graham pitched for Oakland and while he was usually an enigma for the Looloos he pitched three singles off him in the fourth round and scored enough runs to win with. He was generally a good proposition with the exception of this one inning.

The fielding feature of the game was a one-hand catch by Kelly in the second inning. Brashear opened the round for Oakland with a high liner almost directly over second base and about seven feet back of the ground. Kelly had been playing his way towards first base and when he saw the ball coming he made a jump for second base. He evidently got his toes in running. When he struck the base he was on the jump for a good jump into the air, taking a desperate chance he made and half turning, swung his gloved hand across in front of him and threw his head and pulled the ball down, having made a three-quarter circle in the air. It was a wonderful catch and Kelly was warmly applauded for it.

Two innings later, in the fourth the locals caught Graham napping and hit for two runs. Dillon singled to right and went to second on Ross's out at first, scoring the latter on Cravath's drive to center. In the eighth we got one more run on Bernard's single to right, his stolen second and third base and a hit by Flood.

Oakland scored its only run on Kruger's single, a passed ball and a hit by Devereaux.

SECOND GAME.

The first game ended at 3:17 o'clock, and within three minutes the second was commenced, Pierce pitching for Oakland and Goodwin for Los Angeles. The first game was noticeable for the fine work marked by hard hitting and fielding of it. The locals made eleven hits and Oakland seven and of these hits seven were two-baggers and hard ones too. It was bing-bing from the start for the swats and the fielders were kept busy, and with the teams playing such speedy ball the game developed into a very enthusiastic one but without particular novelties.

Oakland made its first two runs on a fielder's choice, a pass and a double to left and the last two on a double, a single and a double. Los Angeles got two in the second on a single, a double and a single and then three in the fifth on two singles and two doubles.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The San Francisco team captured both games today from Tacoma. In the morning game the northerners got a run on three hits in the first inning but could not touch Williams after that period. The locals tied the score in the fourth, and it was not until the last of the eleventh that the game was decided. Two hits then gave the needed run.

In the second game Brown pitched for the visitors and was an easy mark at intervals. In the seventh the locals bunched five hits against him. Score:

BIG LEAGUES BUSY.

LICENSES FOR PLAYERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Times declares that for some time past a number of the biggest magnates of the American and National leagues have been secretly planning a twelve-club league for next season. The plans have rapidly matured and success is anticipated. Either Columbus, Providence or Baltimore will be added to the cities already represented in the two big leagues. Where a city is already represented by two clubs, the best paying one will be chosen and the other offered stock or cash to get out. Control will be vested in a board of three and annual meetings abolished. The players will be required to secure licenses, like jockeys, and no contracts will be made with players until a license is secured.

CHARGING BOOKMAKERS.

SARATOGA STEWARDS' SCHEME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SARATOGA, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Saratoga racetrack, tomorrow, will be inaugurated a new scheme by which Jockey Club stewards hope to make bookmakers contribute to the support of racing. The method adopted is to charge the bookmakers $2 a race, or $12 a day per book for "advance information." This consists of over-weights, withdrawals, jockeys and declarations to win. It is hoped this method will bring in sufficient revenue from the ring to meet the deficits in receipts since the $2 rate of admission went into opeartion.

DETROIT FOR LIPTON CUP.

FREAK BOAT BOUGHT TO WIN SAN DIEGO PRIZE.

Local Owner Regrets That Jealousy of the Detroit Has Arisen but Hopes the Purchase May Tend to Stimulate the Sport—Yacht Not Ready to Sail in "Times" Cup Race.

BY STINSON JARVIS.

It now appears that the Detroit's non-appearance in The Times Cup race of Saturday was not wholly, if at all, due to the criticism about bringing in a large boat to compete against small ones. It may be that her owner had no especial desire to give rise to comment in a closely circumscribed locality, but he was fully informed as to his right to enter under The Times Cup deed of gift, and there were other reasons why the boat could not enter in yesterday's contest. As to this, Byron Erkenbrecher, a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and the head of the Erkenbrecher Syndicate, wrote to me yesterday to say that the Detroit had been on the ways for some time at the Joseph Fellows ship yards to have a number of improvements put in, and that after trying her last Wednesday it was found that further changes were desirable. Mr. Erkenbrecher adds:

"As I always want anything I enter for a race to be in the best possible condition, the necessary changes had to be made beforehand, and it was not possible to have the work done soon enough to enter for The Times Cup race; in fact, I did not know that this race was coming off until I was told of it last Wednesday night by Mr. Pugh.

"Another reason was that I have not been able to get a satisfactory crew, and owing to the time taken up in repairs, any crew obtainable at the last moment would be absolutely green in the handling of the boat. Besides, if I had been able to get the boat ready, I was under promise to take Mrs. Erkenbrecher and a party of friends to Catalina."

Incidentally, Mr. Erkenbrecher gives the yachting public the first explanation it has received as to why he bought the Detroit, on which point there have been many questions. Not every one has been able to see where the racing values of the imported scow come in, for local waters, and the owner now tells us that the purchase was for the big San Diego race for the Lipton Challenge Cup.

Word has been received here that the sloop-yacht Katrina, on which the owner, Carlisle Thorpe, has a party of guests, has arrived at Santa Barbara. A. Lester Best, one of the racing crew of the Marie, leaves today to join the Katrina and cruise among the islands off Santa Barbara for about ten days. The famous crawfish of that locality will receive special attention on board the Katrina.

'MOBES AT TOLEDO.

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S TIME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOLEDO (O.) July 30.—Just as the finish of the first three-mile heat in what was to be a three-heat race for a $1000 purse, between Barney Oldfield and Earl Kiser, on the half-mile track at the fair grounds today, the axle of Kiser's machine broke and the race was not finished. Oldfield's time was 3:45 and Kiser's 3:49 1-5.

Later, in an exhibition, Oldfield covered a mile in 1:12, lowering his half-mile track record of 1:13 4-5, made at Omaha last year.

Charles Soules broke the half-mile track record of 1:24 2-5 for thirty-horse-power machines by going a mile in 1:17 2-5.

AUTO RACES.

OLDFIELD BREAKS RECORD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) July 30.—Two world's records were broken this afternoon at the automobile races on the Toledo Exposition half-mile track. Oldfield reduced the record of 1:13 4-5 made at Omaha to 1:11 3-5 in the last mile of the first three-mile heat of his race with Earl Kiser. Charles Soules, driving a thirty-horse-power Pope-Toledo car, reduced the record held by Burman in the Peerless at Salt Lake City from 1:24 2-5 to 1:19 flat and made two miles in 2:34 3-5 as against 2:49 1-5 made in Salt Lake. The three-heat match race with Kiser was a disappointment owing to the breaking of Kiser's car in the last part of the first heat.

LORDSBURG RACES.

NEW DRIVING CLUB.

LORDSBURG, July 30.—The attendance yesterday afternoon at the opening of the driving track of the San José Rancho Driving Club far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the directors. Six hundred guests paid for admittance, coming from all parts of Southern California. Never has there been seen in this town such a fashionable assemblage, nor such display of fine turnouts.

No expense had been spared by the club directors to have the track and grounds in good condition, and as a result the visitors were loud in their praise of the club and its management. The directors of the club are the leading men of the community, and they are determined that the sportsmanship shall be clean and honorable and no gambling allowed.

The first race yesterday was a mixed race, free for all, and was won by Loretta, owned by J. McKinzie of Riverside; time 2:29.

Second race: Matched race, won by Peter Senze, owned by H. E. Walker of San Dimas; time 3:05.

Third race: Free for all running race, quarter-mile dash, won by India, entered by C. Tomkinson, Los Nietos; time 0:28.

Fourth race: Matched race, won by Babe; entered by B. Davis of Pomona; time 3:04.

Fifth race: Running, one mile dash, won by M. F., owned by W. W. Wiggins of El Monte.

CRICKET.

FINE PRACTICE GAME.

Cricket got another boost as a sport in this city in a fine practice game played yesterday afternoon at Agricultural Park between two elevens made up of members of the local club. The teams were known as the Higgins and Justice and the former won by a score of 144 to 83.

A number of enthusiasts watched the sport and were loud in praising the good work of Barwell of the Higgins team, who made 61 runs before he was run out; Pat Higgins himself, who was not out after 45 runs, and H. Justice, who made 47 runs before he was bowled out. Hughes did fine bowling for Higgins's team. A practice game will be played next Wednesday afternoon.

SYSONBY VALUABLE.

HAS WON A FORTUNE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By winning the Brighton Derby yesterday Sysonby enabled James R. Keene to head the list of winning owners for the Brighton meeting just closed, with a total of $23,650. So far this year Sysonby has won $69,-675.

Minor Baseball.

The Hamburger team of this city went to Santa Barbara yesterday to start the first game of the new association recently formed in the Channel City and with the assistance of six players from this city managed to defeat the Hamburgers in a fine eleven-inning contest by a score of 1 to 0. It is said that the game was the best amateur contest ever seen in Southern California and it was an errorless game marked by the fine fielding of both teams. The feature of the struggle was the pitching of Ford of the Hamburgers, who allowed but three hits, while his team made six swats off Gamble. The batteries were Ford and Snodgrass for Hamburger and Gamble and Le Brand for Santa Barbara. After the game the Santa Barbara team surprised the losers with a big banquet and although coming home defeated the Hamburgers speak in terms of the warmest praise for the hospitality of the Santa Barbara people.

The C. Leonardt team met its first defeat yesterday at Los Nietos at the hands of the Rivera boys, the locals being badly handicapped by the absence of their three best players Knell, Guercio and Ritter. The score was 4 to 3 and the batteries were Shoemaker and Smith and Reiger and Barris.

The newly-organized Dolgeville team defeated the crack Pirate team yesterday by an 8 to 1 score.

Christie's Kilometer Record.

CAPE MAY (N. J.) July 30.—Being officially timed today by Sam Butler, secretary of the Automobile Club of America, Walter Christie, in his 120-horse-power automobile, reduced the American kilometer record by making the distance in 25 seconds flat. He made several attempts, but could not reduce his own time further today, his best later time being 25 1-5s. He will try again for the world's kilometer and mile record August 15.

AT THE CITY'S GATES.

GARVANZA.

AFTER a few months of well-earned rest, the Oliphant sisters will leave next week for an extended tour, taking in the northern country, the Middle States and Florida, where they are to sing at the midwinter Chautauqua. From Florida they expect to take a trip up the Atlantic Coast and Maine.

Sacred songs and stories are the work which these sweet-faced girls have taken up. They travel under no management, simply going wherever they feel they are needed, singing peace and quiet into a hurried, worried and wearied world. When asked if they ever sing classical music the answer was:

"Yes, for practice only. Our work is to sing to people's hearts, not their heads."

The Oliphant Sisters, singing evangelists.

In hospitals aching with their burdens of woe, these good women have sung peace and quiet into many a saddened heart and body racked with pain. While here they have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. Dora Oliphant Coe, of Avenue 46. They will be accompanied on their trip by their brother, Arthur Oliphant, and expect to be gone a year or longer.

The girls have sung in high as well as lowly places and many of the royalty of Europe have listened and been touched by the pathos and heart-reaching qualities of their simple melodies.

Farewell services were held yesterday morning at the Garvanza Methodist Church and in the evening at the Los Angeles Congregational Church on Daly street. The Misses Oliphant sang one song after another, delighting the many friends assembled to bid them good-by.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

The corner-stone of the handsome Masonic hall to be erected at Nos. 1954 to 1956 East First street was laid on Saturday with appropriate exercises. Leo V. Youngworth, master of Hollenbeck Lodge, No. 315, presented a silver trowel to Grand Master M. H. Flint, who was in charge of the formal exercises. The building will be a handsome structure and an ornament to this section of the city. The foundations will be of brick and concrete, and there will be two stories. The first story will contain stores and will have a plate-glass front. The handsome entrance will be ornamented with Ionic pillars. On the second floor will be a commodious lodge room 38x62 feet. The room will have a dome ceiling and will be fitted with the latest devices in heating and ventilation. A banquet room will adjoin the lodge room. The building will occupy a ground space 128x60 feet with the greater frontage on First street.

Rev. F. H. Tubbs is seriously ill at his home. His wife has been confined to her bed for more than a year. The couple are octogenarians and have a host of friends.

UNIVERSITY.

The tower of the University of Southern California building, which for ten years has been a landmark, was removed this week by the workmen who are erecting the additions to the university buildings. The work of tearing down the tower was most hazardous, as some of the main braces were rotten. The old tower was the scene of many exciting class battles. A conical tower will replace the one removed.

J. D. Foss, a student of the University of Southern California, who has recently returned from Lake Geneva, where he attended a session of the summer school, has been appointed assistant physical director of the local Y.M.C.A.

EAST LOS ANGELES.

Residents of Downey avenue are anxious to know what disposition is to be made of the viaduct on San Fernando street near the River station. When the bridge was closed about two years ago it was stated that the viaduct would be opened again shortly, when the necessary repairs had been made. The frowning abutments and bridge, which casts gloomy shadows on the streets below have not been touched since, and the cars still continue to make the tortuous curve underneath it in order to reach the Downey-avenue run.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kettering departed on Tuesday for a visit to their old home in Cincinnati, O.

Yesterday at the East Side Christian Church was celebrated the first anniversary service of the pastorate of Rev. J. N. Smith. During the year the membership of the church has increased and the indebtedness of the church has been removed.

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Byrnes was held from the Sacred Heart Church Tuesday morning. Rev. James O'Neil officiated at the requiem high mass. The interment was at New Calvary Cemetery.

HIGHLAND PARK.

Plans are under way for the laying of sewers, by the city, throughout Highland Park. The pipes are being laid on Echo street and along Avenue 52.

Tuesday evening, at the home of Oscar Bennett, the Moonshine Club of the Methodist Church gave an interesting social. The lawn was prettily decked with Chinese lanterns. The pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. E. O. McIntyre, has been granted a month's vacation.

Pews will be installed in the Highland Park Presbyterian Church this week. A system of ventilation, consisting of a series of fans worked by electricity, is in operation.

George S. Higby of Highland Park has been elected State president of the "floating" work of the Christian Endeavor, an association devoting special attention to the seamen in the merchant marine and the navy.

Rev. H. Hill and family have returned to their home after an extended visit to Mill Creek, near Redlands.

The committee which has charge of the raising of the $200,000 endowment fund for Occidental College has had the time for completing the canvass extended.

Leuzinger is a graduate of Calvin College, Cleveland, O., and has studied theology in Lancaster, Pa. During the past five years he has been pastor of the First Reformed Church of Harmony, Pa. At the morning service yesterday Rev. Leuzinger preached in the Congregational Church and in the afternoon he occupied the pulpit at the Hyde Park Congregational Church. The young man attended this church in his boyhood days. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter, Ruth, and will remain in California for some time.

The Philathea Bible class of the Central Baptist Church held an open meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. S. P. Yoder, No. 1113 Elden avenue. The young men of the church were the guests of the class. An interesting business session was conducted. At this meeting a "Baraca" class for men was formed, with T. C. Roseberry as president; Cecil Brown, vice-president; Harry Tuttle, secretary, and Frank Gatter, treasurer; M. Brazeltine, assistant secretary; Prof. Yoder, teacher, and Albert F. Lister, assistant.

Miss Olive L. Moreland and Alfred M. Shaw were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Graffin, of No. 1500 Vermont avenue, on Wednesday evening. The parlors were prettily decorated with smilax and masses of greenery. Only the immediate relatives of the family were present. Rev. J. M. Schaede performed the ceremony. After August 5 Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will occupy their new home on West Forty-first street.

The corner-stone of the Harvard Heights United Presbyterian Church, at Western avenue and Eighteenth street, was laid yesterday afternoon. The building will cost $10,000. The new church is as yet without a pastor and is being served by Miss Anna Torrance, a city missionary.

Rev. Arthur S. Phelps of the Central Baptist Church will leave on Tuesday for a month's vacation in Santa Cruz county. Dr. Hartwell Pratt will preach during his absence.

Rev. D. B. Loofburrow has received a unanimous call to return to the pastorate of the Pico Heights Methodist Church for another year.

SOUTH LOS ANGELES.

Indignation is expressed by property owners in the vicinity of Figueroa and Moneta avenue, south of Portieth street, at the action of certain individuals who have removed the handsome brown-stone pillars which were an ornament to the tracts laid out in this section. The pillars have been ruthlessly removed without the consent of residents of the tracts. The matter will be taken to the courts.

Work on the car barn on the corner of South Park avenue and Fifty-fourth street is progressing and the building will be covered this week. In the neighborhood of the car barns scores of cottages are being erected.

The substation for the Sunset Telephone Company, on the corner of South Park avenue and Jefferson street, has been completed and the necessary apparatus will be installed at once.

The contract for the new auditorium of the Haven Methodist Church has been drawn up and signed by the trustees. Work has already commenced. At the quarterly conference a request was made for the return for another year of the pastor, Rev. Frederick Miller.

UNION SQUARE.

There is a movement on foot among residents of this section for the grading and paving of Union avenue from Pico to Hoover streets. A majority of the property owners who have thus far been interviewed are in favor of the paving proposition.

On Friday evening the intermediate Christian Endeavorers of the Magnolia Avenue Christian Church held a social at the home of Mrs. Robert Butcher of No. 1031 West Twentieth street.

F. P. Frost and wife of No. 1142 West Twenty-fourth street returned Friday from a three months' visit to Greeley, Colo., and Cambridge, O. Niagara Falls and the Grand Canon of the Colorado were also visted.

M. Wilson has gone with his wife to Vancouver, B. C.

The Grannis Block owned by W. E. Grannis, Twenty-fifth and Hoover streets, was sold on Friday to W. H. Chamberlin. The consideration was stated to be $16,000.

EDITORIAL VISITORS.

Idaho Scribes Arrive for Two Days' Sightseeing and are Being Entertained.

The Idaho State Editorial Association arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning, over the Southern Pacific from San Francisco. The party will leave this evening, over the Salt Lake route, for Salt Lake and thence to Boise, Idaho.

The party has been out from Boise for three weeks, and has made a swing around the circle, first visiting Victoria and other British Columbia points; then stopping at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, and coming down the coast to San Francisco and Oakland, where four days were spent.

Yesterday afternoon, as guests of the Chamber of Commerce, the party was taken by A. W. Skinner in a special observation car to various parts of the city, and to the public parks. Later in the day many of the visitors took in the shorter side trips; and today they will divide into groups bound for Catalina, Mt. Lowe, the beach points, and the orange belt.

The excursionists numbered seventy when the start was made from Boise, but several turned back at Portland. Officers of the association now with the party are the president, C. O. Broxon of Pocatello; the secretary, M. S. Parker, of Boise, and the treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Weaver of Mountain Home.

The party is composed of:

FEASTED UNDER THE OAKS.

Chief of Police Hammel the Host in and Outing and Barbecue up the River.

Six automobiles filled with members of the Police Department and their friends carried a merr party early yesterday to Griffith Park. Chief Hammel was the host. He was ably assisted by Capt. Bradish. The only casualties reported happened to three dogs and a bicycle, excepting, of course, the lulls.

Thirty minutes after they left the Police Station the members of the party were gouging the dust out of their eyes under the big five oaks on the slopes of Mount Hollywood.

Police Commissioners James and Mason were in attendance. Commissioner Gates was out of the city. Mayor McAleer had promised to attend, but excused himself on account of illness. Conscientious scruples were advanced as the reason of the absence of the fourth member of the commission.

The bulls' heads were served a la western style on the banks of the Los Angeles River. With them were served tortillas and refrescos a la German.

During the forenoon about half the party climbed to the summit of Bee Rock, Park Superintendent Morley acting as guide. Anxious to contribute to the enjoyment of his guests, Chief Hammel started in the lead he made his last contribution shortly before reaching the summit.

Mr. Morley suggested that the mountain climbers ascend a near-by peak overlooking Palm Springs. He said it was a fine view. The party agreed to overlook it.

While the invitations had promised only a bulls' head breakfast, the members of the party were agreeably surprised to discover that the real entertainment of the day was a Mexican barbecue dinner, prepared by Mexican chefs.

The dinner bill of fare included Carne a la California; salsa, a la Los Angeles; elotes a la Missouri; pan a la sheepherder; carne seca a la Española; refrescos, a la German, and zandillas a la Georgia.

On the return trip one chauffeur missed the ford across the river. The machine was pulled out by a relay formed of four hay wagons and teams.

Could See His Heart.

In Moberly recently there was a man selling mucilage, who is a curiosity to the medical fraternity, as his left lung is eaten away with consumption, and from six operations he had performed to obtain relief from physical ills a hole was made in his left side through which his heart could be plainly seen and its throbbing witnessed. The man claims that by holding his nose and closing his mouth he is enabled to breathe through the hole in his side. He has photographs showing the hole in his side and the caved-in appearance of his chest, which is due to some of his ribs being removed. The man resides in Colorado and has written a book about himself, upon which he will obtain a copyright. Until he obtains the legal papers he refuses to make his name public.—[Kansas City Times.

INVESTITURE OF MONSIGNOR.

Vicar-General Harnett Puts on Purple Robes.

Great Concourse and Sermon by the Bishop.

Prelate Now in the Pontiff's Domestic Household.

It was a great concourse of people that yesterday morning at St. Vibiana's Cathedral witnessed the investure of Right Rev. Mgr. P. Harnett, vicar-general of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, with the insignia of the honors recently conferred upon him, thus making the monsignor in reality a member of the domestic household of the Holy Father.

It is the first time such a ceremony has taken place on the Pacific Coast—probably the first occasion of the kind in the entire West—and the honor gives deep gratification to Bishop Conaty and the priests of the diocese, by whom Mgr. Harnett is greatly beloved.

A procession of acolytes, priests, the monsignor and the bishop wended its way from the cathedral residence to the church, and proceeded up the main aisle to the sanctuary. Bishop Conaty was seated on the throne, and Mgr. Harnett was seated on the opposite side of the sanctuary, robed for the first time in the purple of the prelacy. Bishop Conaty was attended by Rev. Rudolf Fuhr, O.F.M., as arch priest, and Rev. J. O'Keefe, O.F.M., of San Luis Rey Mission, and Rev. Henry Wyman, C.R.P., of the Paulist Church, San Francisco, as deacons of honor. Rev. Clement Malony of St. Agnes Church was the master of ceremonies at the bishop's throne.

Mgr. Harnett was attended by Rev. James Siebert as deacon of the mass and Rev. William Lonergan as subdeacon. Rev. James Reardon, the bishop's secretary, was master of ceremonies.

Other priests in the sanctuary were: Rev. M. McAuliffe, Sacred Heart Church; Rev. J. J. Clifford, Church of St. Thomas the Apostle; Rev. Edward Lenox, O.F.M., St. Joseph's Church; Rev. D. J. Healy, C.M.; H. Murphy, C.M., and J. E. Lilley, C.M., of St. Vincent's College; Rev. P. Scher, St. Vibiana's Cathedral; Rev. D. W. Murphy, Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Hollywood; Rev. Edward P. Foley, Sacred Heart Church, Salinas; Rev. John Harnett, nephew of Mgr. Harnett, of St. James's Church, San Francisco; Rev. E. Beaudry, Church of Our Lady of Angels; Rev. M. Connolly, Church of the Star of the Sea, San Pedro; Rev. M. Ternes, Needles; Rev. F. Hahn, M.A., Banning Indian School; Rev. Eugene Heffernan, St. Vibiana's Cathedral; Rev. J. Kelly, C.SS. R., St. Louis; Rev. T. Donnellan, Church of San Pietro; Rev. George Donahoe, St. Augustine's Church; Rev. J. Sheehy, Monrovia, and Rev. M. Hennessey, St. Clement's Church, Ocean Park.

After the bishop was seated on the throne, which was beautifully adorned with ropes of greenery, the rochet, mantoletta and beretta for the monsignor were presented him.

Before the investiture of the monsignor the order of the Pope was read from the steps of the main altar by Rev. J. J. Clifford.

THE RITUAL.

The ritualistic service of the church was used by the bishop, and after anointing with holy water the vestments, he invested the monsignor as he knelt before the throne.

The ceremony was simple but impressive, and doubtless few in the vast audience had ever witnessed its like before. It was watched with the deepest interest, the congregation standing.

By an order of Pope Pius X, made several months ago, all vicar-generals were raised to the position of prothonotaries apostolic during their tenure of office. This honor, however, only holds during the tenure of office. Several weeks later Pope Pius conferred on the vicar-general of this diocese the special honor of raising him to a domestic prelate—a member of the Pope's personal household.

This gives rank next to that of a bishop in the diocese, and gives special privileges and rank on the recipient's visitations to Rome, but there are no additional powers of jurisdiction. It is conferred on the vicar-general of this diocese as a personal honor, in recognition for his faithful services to the church. It entitles him to wear the prelate purple.

Mgr. Harnett celebrated the solemn high mass, and during the service a magnificent musical programme was rendered by the chorus choir, under the direction of Rev. T. F. Fahey, diocesan director.

Bishop Conaty preached from the text: "This honor is he worthy of whom the King hath a mind to honor." Esther vi. 11. He said during the discourse:

BISHOP'S DISCOURSE.

"We are gathered today to honor him whom the Pontiff has honored and to show that years of fidelity in the service of religion and priestly works have been so fittingly rewarded.

"The title of domestic prelate indicates that men are chosen to be attendants in a special manner to the person of the household of the sovereign Pontiff, enjoying by virtue of their attachment special honors and privileges. The history of the development of the papal household would make a most interesting study. It has its origin in one form or another in the early Christian days, though its present dates largely from the Middle Ages. The very organization of the church itself calls for it, in order that the Supreme Pontiff may have around him faithful, competent ministers and friends, who, enjoying his confidence, manifest to his people and his office special marks of devotion and loyalty and stand ready for missions of importance.

"The vicar-general, our monsignor enjoys the honorary title of Protonotary Apostolic, but through the special favor of the holy father he is personally honored with the dignity of domestic prelate. This prelacy is a special reward for devotion to the church. It shares the confidence of the pontiff chief of the church in his labors for the work of God, and enjoys the privilege of the purple robes of the rochet.

"The papacy is the greatest influence that has ever known; it has been and was the world itself. The papacy, its power over the consciences of men, who recognize in it the authority of God in the things of faith and morals. It has neither national nor racial limits; its nationality is a catholic one, universal one, and has its home in the faith accepted by Him. It is found who believe in Jesus Christ and wherever established by Him. It is found in every nation. Its word is law and rules every diocese, it gives pastoral authority to every parish, it touches every Catholic home; in a word, it influences the individual because he recognizes it as the one authority established by Christ to tell him the word of faith and to establish for him the authority in things spiritual. It has preached the gospel in every land, in every tongue, at all times, since the day of Pentecost. It sends the missionary to heathen lands, it develops the Christian character in nations already civilized.

"It is the central religious authority of the world; it is the bulwark against anarchy; it is the safeguard for law. Christian civilization has been made possible by its teaching, for it brought to the nations the gospel of Christ. The civilization of every age has to reckon with it, for it alone has looked upon the face of Christ and heard from Him the command to preach His gospel, which alone makes true civilization. It embraces all nations, all empires, kingdoms and republics and is at home with them all. Its pulse is touched by every social movement and in turn society receives from it a life blood which gives character to true reform. Prisons have no terror for it, honors have never blinded it. Powers may exile and imprison the Pontiff, but the papacy still lives and rules. It deals, as it has always dealt, with the religious questions of every nation. It is against error, whether social or religious, and stands for law and authority. It defends the rights of individuals against the tyranny of kings and protects the people from anarchy, which finds in it its greatest foe.

"It is the friend of good government and the supporter of lawful authority, the protector of womanhood, the defender of the marriage tie, the advocate of the working man, the friend of vested rights, the good Samaritan in all the needs of humanity.

"From the day that Peter received his commission as the first Pope until the present day the Papacy has been the representative of the supernatural in human life and its influence has had in view the building of Christ into the life and actions of men. While living for the spiritual it has not neglected the intellectual growth of the people. Literature and art have always found in it a fostering friend and under its care has been preserved for mankind the literature of the ancients, the sacred word of God in the Bible, and the splendid development of the universities of the middle ages. From the Blessed Peter who received the great commission to Pope Damasus who called St. Jerome to the work of the scriptures, from Celestine who sent Patrick to Ireland to Leo the Great who saved Italy from Attila, from Gregory the Great who sent Augustine to England to Innocent III who made Frederick grant the church her rights, from Benedict VIII who fought Philip the Fair for church properties and revenues, to Paul III who declared the native Indians of America truly and really freemen who should not be reduced to slaves, from Leo X whose age was Augustian in literature to Clement XIV who named John Carroll first Bishop of Baltimore, from Pius IX who named Archbishop McClosky of New York the first American Cardinal to Leo XIII who named the present beloved Cardinal Gibbons, and to Pius X who has named our beloved vicar general as domestic prelate, the Papacy has been the religious authority which has touched the hearts and intelligence of men.

"It is indeed honorable to be invited into the household of the Papacy and be associated with its government. Our present Holy Father, the successor of the illustrious Leo XIII, the statesman pontiff of the nineteenth century has already endeared himself to the world as well as to his Catholic children by his fatherly words and his kindly deeds. His vast experiences in the parochial and episcopal offices have brought him very close to the people and he is essentially democratic. His thought is toward a reformation, against what he finds to be abuses in matters of church discipline and organization; his determination with regard to a scriptural scholarship as seen in the establishment of the Biblical Commission, his order with reference to the simplicity and beauty of church music, his command as to the teaching of catechism, and the popular instruction of the people, have already made the Catholic world realize the learning and piety of our great pontiff.

"His cry is the cry for restoration of all things in Christ, his plea for education is education with Christ in it, and the brotherhood that all would wish to have restored among men is the brotherhood of Christ.

"To receive special honors from such a pontiff is indeed a dignity of which any man might justly be proud. Pius X has conferred the dignity upon our dearly beloved friend and we gratefully thank him for the honor while we lovingly honor him whom he has honored.

"We will not presume to wound the modesty of our new monsignor by any words of flattery other than to say that years of devotedness to God's work have been fittingly rewarded.

"Dear monsignor, we rejoice that the title of domestic prelate comes to you and in union with the people whom you have devotedly served, we all feel today a sense of pride. Our prayer is that God may spare you many years to labor faithfully as a trusted member of the household of the great pontiff.

"You need not be urged toward loyalty for him, for your life has been filled with loyalty; you need not be urged to acts of devotion toward him, for your priestly life has been one single act of devotion to all that the priesthood means. You have been favored in having knelt at his feet and received his fatherly blessing. Wear, then, with honor, the royal purple; lay aside the simple black of the faithful priest for the insignia of the pontiff's friend, let the surplice which has marked many years of priestly life, yield to the rochet of distinction and a mantle of royalty mark you among men as a prelate of the papal household. You are now right reverend among your brethren.

"May these events bring nearer to us the office and life of our supreme pontiff. Let prelate, priest and people unite with the bishop in thanking God for the gift of faith by which you are numbered in the family of the great pontiff. May our Catholic spirit be renewed in devotion to him to whom Christ has confided the care of the flock of the church of God. May I bear to him in my approaching visit to his throne my own grateful thanks and those of the priests and people of this diocese, recalling to him our special gratitude for having named you, monsignor, domestic prelate. May we all unite in honoring you whom he has honored and beg God's blessing to descend upon us all."

DEATH ENDS HER AMBITION.

PROMISING YOUNG MUSICIAN EXPIRES SUDDENLY.

Miss Laura Barker Stricken With Fatal Illness Just When She Was Achieving Success in Her Chosen Profession—Beautiful and Talented, She Was Becoming Famous.

Miss Laura Barker, a beautiful and talented young musician of local note, died suddenly yesterday forenoon at her home, No. 228½ South Spring street.

With a promising career before her and with flattering prospects of success as a vocalist, Miss Barker had applied herself to her studies and was rising to a position of prominence when her death occurred.

The young woman had a host of friends who were interested in her efforts to acquire a thorough knowledge of her loved art, and as her musical talent was recognized, the road to success was opening before her.

At a time when life is the sweetest and hope the brightest, she was stricken with an incurable malady which slowly sapped her strength. She never complained and was at all times cheerful, and her real condition was scarcely known until within the last few days when she rapidly became weaker. Surrounded with friends whose hearts were wrung with anguish, she passed peacefully away.

Miss Barker was 21 years of age and was the daughter of Mrs. L. M. Barker and sister of Mrs. H. D. Ballada of Francisco street, and of Mrs. E. Baldy of West Twenty-fifth street.

"Examiner" Faking.

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] My neighbor says your paper is pretty good, but old-fashioned and not so enterprising as the Hearst paper, which he takes. He took the Sunday paper yesterday and showed me what he meant. "You see," he said, "Hearst spends money freely to give his readers the best of everything. He hires the biggest people all over the world to write for him, and he pays them big money. Here, on the signed editorial page, is an article by Hall Caine or 'His Other Me.' I'll bet he paid a whacking price for that article—hundreds of dollars, perhaps close to a thousand—and had it cabled over from England at great expense. That's what I like about the Examiner. Always find in it the writings of leading literary men and women. Hearst hires 'em all to write those things exclusively for his papers. Now, why doesn't The Times get writers like Hall Caine to liven up its columns, and pay them for exclusive signed articles?"

What could I say? There was the article, prominently displayed on the special editorial page, with "By Hall Caine" in large type to show that the English novelist is on the Hearst staff of writers.

I didn't say anything. I merely showed to my neighbor page 13 of The Times Magazine, where appeared a report, honestly credited to the London Mail, of a speech made by Hall Caine to the North Lancashire Press Club on the occasion of the club's excursion to the Isle of Man. That speech contained the whole of the article printed in the Hearst paper in a form to convey the false impression that it was written by Mr. Caine for Hearst. By garbling one or two paragraphs and cutting off the last four entirely, the fact that the article was really a speech to a press club, satirically roasting the sort of journalism which Hearst invented and practices, was concealed by the yellow faker, and readers of the Examiner like my neighbor were fooled into admiration of the enterprise and lavish liberality of that journalistic grafter. Hearst simply stole that article from the London Mail and stole Hall Caine's name with it. A TIMES READER.

BOMBSHELL BREAKS SUNDAY BOOZE CLUB.

IN a police raid on a blind pig which Capt. Auble pulled off yesterday afternoon, a nest of boozers was unearthed. One Salvador Terrisa, alias Frank Stadler, for the second time got into the City Jail, and about forty fellows of unsavory appearance were found inside drinking.

The joint has been known as "The Mechanics' Club." It was located on Fourteenth and Channing streets, behind an unpretentious cigar and fruit stand. Fifty cents was the entrance fee to the "club," which has for many months past been a regular nuisance to the neighborhood. But in spite of the entrance fee being nominally obligatory, friends of the "members" rarely found any difficulty in getting what they wanted to drink at any time of the day or night, week day or Sunday.

A hint came to police headquarters about a week ago that a blind pig was running behind the cigar stand. Capt. Auble sent two plain clothes men to get evidence, and then laid his plans for a raid for a Sunday afternoon's diversion. It was found that Terrisa had had a government license to sell liquor, but had seen fit to ignore the city authorities.

Capt. Auble and a force of men under Officer Ingram went down to the place at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The first impulse of most of those drinking at the joint was to break out of the back way as soon as the word "police" was heard.

Salvador Terrisa was the only man gathered in, as he was the responsible party. He bears a very unsavory reputation at headquarters. Over a year ago he served 150 days in jail for the same offense.

STAND TOGETHER.

Employing Printers Sign an Agreement to Assist Each Other in Maintaining Conditions.

The employing printers of Los Angeles do not propose to accede to the demands of an eight-hour day which have been made by the labor unions. Their claim that conditions will not justify this change to a shorter working day with the same schedule of wages as at present, is backed by their agreement to stand together on the proposition, and to give each other such mutual aid and support as may be necessary should strikes be called.

It will be seen that practically every printing and binding concern of importance in the city has taken this stand. The statement setting forth the position as outlined above has been signed by representatives of the following firms:

Commercial Printing House, Los Angeles Printing Company, Southern California Printing Company, C. E. Bireley Company, Phillips Printing Company, Kaestner & Brown, R. W. Pridham, R. Y. Alexander as a Boy.

"This, ladies and gentlemen, is the most remarkable collection of relics in the world," said the lecturer. "Here, for instance, is the skull of Alexander the Great," he announced, impressively, holding up a small skull selected at random from a pile on the table in front of him.

"But I always understood that Alexander the Great was a large man," spoke up a gentleman in the audience.

"Quite so," replied the showman. "What I am showing you is the skull of Alexander the Great when a boy."—[Harper's Weekly.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

WATER FREEZES IN MIDSUMMER.

STRANGE WEATHER PHENOMENON IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Forest Rangers in San Bernardino Range Report That Pools are Coated With Ice Every Morning—Peculiar Conditions Caused by Salton Sea. Pistol Duel With Burglar.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—Chief Ranger Tortensen of the San Bernardino forest reserve reports freezing wetaher among the mountains, a most unheard of phenomenon for the midsummer time. For several weeks past water in tins and in undisturbed pools has frozen each night, and in Bear Valley and other sections the humidity has been so great as to actually moisten the earth, which each morning has crackled under the tread, having frozen, and ice has formed on vegetation.

The peculiar state of affairs is accounted for by the presence of the Salton sea. Heretofore the climate on the mountains has been dry, but it is so no more. The change in climate since the Salton sea has been giving trouble has also been noted here. The humidity is intense, and each night a heavy fog lowers, while the atmosphere becomes cold between 1 o'clock and sunrise.

FREE STOVE WOOD.

Word has been received through official sources that the government is to give away the dead timber on the mountains free in reasonable quantities to private persons, application blanks for permission to remove the timber having been sent to the chief ranger for distribution. Corporations and mining companies, using large quantities of timber, will be obliged to pay for it. Another bit of news welcome to people throughout this section is that the government, commencing September 1, will permit grazing in the reserve by the payment of 35 to 40 cents per head during the summer and 40 to 50 cents per head the year round. These rates per head are fixed in order that stock companies will not take advantage of the new rules to run in large herds of cattle without paying for each head of stock that is so turned loose. Formerly it was customary to rent so many acres of grazing land and the companies would run in as high as 1000 head and graze over ten times the acreage leased.

MAY HAVE WINGED HIM.

Deputy Sheriff Velarde had a pistol duel last night with a negro burglar who was detected in the act of breaking into a house on Bridge street. The thief attacked the officer with a club, and turning fled, drawing a revolver at the same instant and firing it point blank at Velarde, who returned the fire, emptying his revolver. The last shot was fired as the negro plunged into the willows along Warm Creek, and he gave an unearthly yell, leading to the belief that he was wounded.

PAID HIS FINE.

William Cole, the Santa Fé striker who was sent to jail from Needles as a petty thief to serve 100 days or pay a fine of $100, yesterday secured money from his relatives in the East and secured his freedom. Arthur Vallens, alias "Boston," the other Santa Fé striker, a machinist formerly employed at the local shops, who is under arrest for highway robbery, has given up the insanity dodge, and will have his preliminary hearing tomorrow before Justice of the Peace C. L. Thomas.

KEEPS BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

Roundhouse Foreman Addison of the Santa Fé at Barstow bids fair to cane before the public again. A year ago his wife filed divorce proceedings, and he attempted to kill himself with a butcher knife. The wife got her decree, and later was induced to return as housekeeper. Now she has come to secure his arrest for battery, claiming another woman, who lives with him, was also involved in the attack upon her.

SIX-INCH SKULL FRACTURE.

An autopsy was held on the remains of Ernest Hudson yesterday, the doctors discovering a crack in his skull six inches long. Notwithstanding this fracture, which he sustained by falling from a train in Arizona, he survived the injury three weeks. The crack started just below and to the left of the crown of the head, ranging back and down, and then curving under the left ear, probably up into the roof of the mouth.

HONORED DEAD CHIEFTAIN.

The local Grand Army Post and Relief Corps held memorial services for the late Gen. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the organization, who died suddenly at Boise City, Idaho, July 15. The meeting was presided over by Capt. Hattery, addresses being made by Co. Seymour, Dr. Hurley and John Brown, the latter making an eloquent address on behalf of the San Bernardino Society of Pioneers. Miss Josie Palmer sang several solos, and the religious features were rendered by Rev. Mark B. Shaw of the Baptist Church.

RAISING THE SUBSIDY.

Joseph Israel and J. W. Catick, committee from the Merchants' Association appointed to raise the $1000 which the association is to contribute toward Rialto's electric railway project, are meeting with signal success, having already a large part of the amount subscribed. They have apportioned the subscription among 100 merchants at the rate of $10 each, and only in two instances have been refused.

COMING WITH FORGER.

Deputy Sheriff Kohler of Redlands left Louisville, Ky., yesterday for this place, having in custody W. H. Buchanan, alias Alexander, the forger, who secured $480 on a bogus check passed on the First National Bank of Redlands three weeks ago.

HIGHLAND.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE FISH?

HIGHLAND, July 30.—The Supervisors are anxious to hear from anyone who has had any experience in regard to the rainbow trout in the mountain streams. Every year the tiny fish have been placed in the streams above Redlands, and not over 100 have ever attained their growth and been caught by fishermen. One explanation of their remarkable disappearance is that they are devoured by the trout of other species as soon as they are placed in the water and before attaining a sufficient size to defend themselves.

Judge Short of Hanford, Grand Vice-Chancellor of California, made an official visit to Knights of Pythias lodge on Monday evening. He came almost unannounced, dropping into town a few hours before time for the meeting.

BIG LEMON SHIPMENT.

Pinkham & McKevitt shipped out the largest car of lemons this week that has been sent from this district in years. It contained 406 boxes; the average car has only 312 boxes. The fruit was for Chicago trade.

John Cleghorn, local manager of the Independent House, returned Tuesday from an extended trip East.

BOY SEES HIS FATHER KILLED.

CARELESS HANDLING OF A GUN CAUSES A TRAGEDY.

Riverside Man's Head Almost Blown Off Near Winchester—Former Perris Druggist Arrested When Cured of Insanity and Jailed for Having Illegally Sold Liquor.

RIVERSIDE, July 30.—Dan Marsh of Riverside accidentally shot and killed himself at Winchester, eight miles east of Hemet, this afternoon. He left here yesterday by team, taking his little son with him, to do some blasting in a mine near Winchester for H. S. Clark. On arriving at his destination at 1 o'clock this afternoon he drew his gun from the wagon, muzzle towards him. It was discharged, the entire charge striking Marsh in the neck and killing him instantly. Coroner Dickson has gone out to hold an inquest.

MORE TROUBLE FOR LEEMAN.

L. E. Leeman, erstwhile Perris druggist, has troubles of his own. Because of these troubles he is now in the County Jail. About six months ago Leeman was fined $300 for selling liquor at Perris. Before he had time to satisfy the judgment he was sent to the Patton asylum to recover from the effect of too liberal libation of his own stock in trade. With the cause of his trouble removed, Leeman recovered at the hospital and yesterday was released. He found Deputy Sheriff Clayton awaiting him with a warrant for arrest on the old charge. Leeman declared that he hadn't the price with him, but promises to make good the demand tomorrow. He was lodged in jail last night.

TO CLIMB GRAYBACK.

The recently organized Alpine Club, having made a successful ascent of Old Baldy, will now tackle a somewhat more difficult task. The members of the club leave tomorrow morning for Grayback, and will be absent until Saturday night. Those comprising the party will be Rev. Alex Eakin, W. G. Irving, Norman Irving, Rev. R. C. Stone of San Bernardino, Prof. A. N. Wheelock, John Myine, George C. Stranahan, J. M. McCrae and Ross McCrae.

SALVATION ARMY TESTIMONIAL.

Salvation Army Hall was crowded tonight for the farewell reception to Adjutant McKenzie, preliminary to his departure to Quebec to see his aged mother. Several short addresses were delivered expressing satisfaction at the work done by the Salvation Army officer since he has been in charge of the work here; and the adjutant replied in a feeling manner.

The story of how Adjutant McKenzie comes to leave for this trip is well worth telling. For many years the Adjutant has longed to see his fast-ageing mother, but the duties of a Salvationist are numerous and their perquisites are small. He happened to mention one day that his great desire was to see his mother alive again. This was to a local business man, who replied that he would be glad to attend to the financial end of the trip, and the offer was gratefully accepted. Adjutant McKenzie will carry with him a memorial signed by practically all the business men and public officials of Riverside testifying to the good work he has done here and paying a high tribute to his worth as a man among men.

ORANGE CENTER BREVITIES.

The fire department was called out at 3:30 o'clock this morning by an alarm rung in from box 32. A hay barn on the C. T. Rice place, Brockton avenue, was destroyed by fire. It was not occupied.

Walter Hempel, who is to coach the Sherman Indian football team this year, is recuperating from a severe attack of bronchitis at Claremont. Hempel will begin practice early in the fall.

The local W.C.T.U. will hold a double contest on Tuesday evening. Members will cobtest for a matron's oratorical medal and a singing contest will also be held.

Rev. G. A. Cleveland, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Riverside, now pastor of a large church in Minneapolis, occupied his old pulpit today, preaching a strong sermon in the morning. Rev. Alex Eakin, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church, preached in the evening before a union congregation.

IDYLLWILD.

MILE ABOVE THE SEA.

IDYLLWILD, July 30.—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings T. P. Lukens of Pasadena lectured in the spacious hall of the new bungalow. His subjects were "Reforestation," "Forests of the Pacific Coast" and "Conservation of Forests." They were illustrated by over two hundred colored slides, from photographs taken by Mr. Lukens while making investigations of forestry conditions throughout the State. This week Prof. Stubenrauch of the agricultural department of the State University will lecture, as will also Avery Searle of Pasadena.

Friday evening after the lecture the entire population of the resort tramped through the woods to the camp of Mrs. Blakeman and the Misses Blakeman, and enjoyed a huge campfire and a barbecue which had been arranged by the management.

James H. Gault of Washington, D. C., is here and expects to camp for ten days in the highest meadows near San Jacinto Peak, for the purpose of collecting mammals that live in high elevations, for the United States Department of Biology.

ALL WANT PART OF THE ESTATE.

NO DEARTH OF ALLEGED HEIRS OF WILLIAM HARMON.

Eccentric Santa Ana Character Left No Information About His Family and Now Numerous Claims for His Property Have Been Filed With the Public Administrator.

SANTA ANA, July 30.—Public Administrator George S. Smith has discovered no less than six alleged heirs of the estate of William Harmon, an eccentric old man, who died at the Patton Insane Asylum February 25, 1902.

Harmon made his home here for many years, staying most of the time at the Richelieu Hotel. He was extremely reticent about his affairs, never speaking of family or relatives and avoiding any mention of his business. His insanity developed only a short time before his death and was induced, it is thought, by his peculiar habits of life.

When his estate was investigated by the public administrator, it was found to amount to about $1500 in cash and property, after all expenses had been paid. No trace of heirs could be discovered for some time, but recently numerous inquiries have been received from claimants to the property. Mrs. John Foster of Butler, Mo., writes Administrator Smith that she is a cousin of Harmon and a like claim is put forth by Mrs. Mary Bequette of St. Louis. Attorneys in Peoria, Ill., have instituted claims for Misses Jane and Mary Harmon of that place as nieces of the deceased. Although Harmon was supposed to be without family and had told persons here that he never married, a claim comes from Los Angeles, purporting to represent three children of the old man, Luis, Ada and Orson, all "by his first wife."

Among the latest possibilities in the way of heirs to the $1500 are Ambrose Harmon, an aged miner of Newhall, supposed to be a cousin, and J. Beckette, of St. Louis, another of the man's numerous cousins.

None of the claimants has thus far adduced sufficient proof to secure the money, which is still in the hands of the public administrator.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

The electric cars, which were to have been in operation between Huntington Beach and Newport today will not be running before Tuesday or Wednesday. The track is laid and poles put up as far as Newport but the wires have not yet been strung.

Two games of baseball between the Sioux Indians traveling team and the Santa Ana High School nine will be played at Athletic Park Tuesday, one game in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

Attorneys for D. H. Thomas have received word from the Bolsa Chica Gun Club that the $1429 damages awarded by the Supreme Court to Thomas for injury to his celery crop by the backing up of waters from the gun club's dam will be paid upon proper presentation of the claim.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Goepper and Chris McNeill are home from a two weeks outing in the San Juan hills.

Rev. Leander Lane of the First Christian Church is at Long Beach for a three weeks' vacation.

Rev. A. H. Hooker of the First Congregational Church and family will spend a month at Newport Beach, going there this week. Services at the church will be suspended for August.

Miss Catherine Boyle of Riverside is here as the guest of Miss Grace Mitchell.

Mrs. Grace Backmah and guests have gone to Long Beach for two weeks.

VENTURA.

FIFTY THOUSAND YOUNG TROUT.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, July 30.—Sim Myers of the Matilija Hot Springs is determined to make the Ventura River the best trout stream in the State, and is now arranging to plant 50,000 more young trout in that river with the aid of R. B. Witman of Oxnard. The stream has always been noted by sportsmen as the best fishing ground in this end of the State, but last year Mr. Myers concluded that it was not yet good enough and placed therein 50,000 young trout. These, it was noticed this season, were doing well and fishermen were very careful to see that they were not molested. The stream is now full of young fish from this planting. When the new supply of baby fish is added the river will be better supplied than it ever was, though there is plenty of water and room for any number of trout to thrive and grow. The new importation, which comes from the State hatchery will arrive at this point Monday morning and will be immediately sent to the Matilija for placing.

RUNAWAY INJURES TWO.

There was an exciting runaway yesterday on the Pleasant Valley road, in which two well-known young ladies were injured. Misses Rosie and Katie Cloyne were driving toward their home after gathering berries at the Donlon home. Their horse became frightened and started to run away. The girls could not control it, but in their efforts to do so it ran the buggy into a telephone pole. The girls were thrown out. Miss Rosie's arm was broken, while her sister suffered severe bruises. Tom Farrell succeeded in stopping the horse and the girls were taken to their home later.

Lemon growers of this county are getting rich over the sale of their crop this year. Ventura is sending a great deal of this essential fruit East, where the supply is practically exhausted. The past week a car and a half of lemons from the Blanchard packing-house in Santa Paula, of the quality known as half standards, brought the sum of $1763. This would make the standard sell at something like $9 the box. Ventura county is one of the finest lemon-growing sections in the State, the largest lemon orchard in the world being located here.

"Bob" Burdette's Weekly Letters.

The Times is publishing each Sunday a letter written by the famous "Bob" while he is on his European tour. Judging by the installments already printed, they promise to be more than interesting, loaded with his old-time humor, and well worth reading.

What is a Manufacturer to do when the retailer insists on selling his product for more than the regular retail price? What is he to do when the retailer discriminates in favor of a similar product in place of his, because that article pays him a better profit?

There is only one remedy, and that remedy is publicity.

Advertise the retail price of your article, and establish that price.

The retailer who insists on advancing the price is working an injustice to the manufacturer by bringing about an unnecessary difference in price between the standard article and the unadvertised one. The retailer who substitutes an article for the one the purchaser really wants is wronging the purchaser and wronging the manufacturer.

Advertising is that intimate relation between the manufacturer and the consumer whereby the manufacturer talks direct to his real market, and the purchaser has a definite name and a definite reputation upon which to rely.

This intimate relation has been established between more manufacturers and more consumers through the columns of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL than through any other one advertising medium.

MASONIC TEMPLE FOR PASADENA.

DEDICATORY EXERCISES TO BE HELD TOMORROW.

Deputy Grand Master Motley H. Flint to Lead the Ritualistic Ceremonies—Resignations Expected at Meeting of the Police Commission Today—Thieves in House.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 28 South Raymond avenue, July 31.—Deputy Grand Master Motley H. Flint of Los Angeles will pronounce the ritual at the dedication ceremonies tomorrow, marking the completion of the magnificent new temple erected by the Masonic lodges of Pasadena, at an estimated cost of more than $40,000.

Preceding the dedication all the members of the local Masonic bodies will congregate in Elks' Hall at 2 o'clock p.m. and from there proceed to the new structure on North Fair Oaks avenue, escorted by the Pasadena Commandery, Knights Templar. Commencing at 2:30 o'clock the dedication ceremonies will take place in the handsome Blue Lodge room.

In the evening commencing at 8 o'clock there will be a public reception under the auspices of the ladies of the Eastern Star, at which time the whole building will be thrown open for public inspection.

Pasadena Masons boast a large and representative membership, and the affairs of all the various lodges are in a highly prosperous condition. The members of the dedication committee of arrangements are: Henry Ramel, R. P. Congdon, E. O. Nay, L. L. Test, Charles T. Sutton, C. J. Crandall and V. K. Gaylord.

WAY'S REJOINDER.

W. Scott Way, leading spirit in the Audubon society, friend of the animals and secretary of the Humane Society of Pasadena, has decided views concerning the action of the District Court of Appeals Saturday in declaring the deer law invalid. He says: "In the fight that was waged under the name of the County Game Protective Association the matter was carried out by a few directors; without consulting the main body of the membership at all. The officers have not called a meeting of the association, to my certain knowledge, for more than three years. Are these officers afraid of a new deal? Among the directors we find the name of a prominent dealer in guns and ammunition and a renter of guns to that class of promiscuous hunters who are usually a common nuisance. There are other directors whom I believe to be honest game protectionists, but they are in mighty strange company. The Audubon society is fighting only for game protection and not to prohibit hunting of species not in danger of early extermination."

WITH THE PROCESSION.

Without fear of being molested, thieves entered the house now under construction at the corner of Huntington Drive and Garfield avenue in South Pasadena and made away with a valuable lot of painting tools and other paraphernalia belonging to Messrs. Ward & Hanan, a Pasadena firm of painters. The house is owned by a Mrs. Moore. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the theft.

Resignations will again be the order of the day at the meeting of the City Commissioners this afternoon. It is expected that Policeman Wilbur S. McIntyre will tender his resignation in order to assume his new position as deputy in the office of City Treasurer Munson, and C. E. Peck, a member of the Dayton street fire company, will quit his position to go into business. There is more to in political circles that Bartlett is slated to succeed City Engineer Ramel, whose ation was handed to Mayor Waise last week. Bartlett is at present business for himself but it is ed he has done work for the city various times in the past. Action for the appointment of a successor to Maj. Ramel is expected at a meeting of the City Commissioners this afternoon.

Mayor Waterhouse has instituted a rigid investigation into the books of former City Electrician A. T. Dickey in the hope of securing additional evidence of the former official's alleged speculations.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Auten and Miss Auten of Madison avenue expect to go East next month to remain away until November.

About thirty members of the senior branch of the Y.M.C.A. will leave today for the summer camp of the association at White's Landing, Catalina Island, where they will spend the next two weeks in various outing pastimes.

At the meeting of the Council tomorrow it is rumored that the committee recently appointed to investigate the charges against former City Engineer Allin will report in his favor. Allin's trade on North Fair Oaks was questioned and mercenary motives were alleged because he owns property in the region affected.

GLENDORA.

IMPORTANT MATTERS SETTLED.

GLENDORA, July 30.—A called meeting was held by the members of the Azusa, Covina and Glendora Associations Saturday at their office in the packing-house in Glendora for the purpose of considering the proposal of the Charteroak Association to reunite with the A.C.G. from which it withdrew about three years ago; also the question of either building a new packing-house or enlarging the present one, and the question of continuing or discontinuing by the association of fumigating the orchards of the members as has been done for several years.

It was decided that the Charteroak Association might again assume its former position with the A.C.G. Association. The present packing-house is to be enlarged. The association will go out of the business of fumigating, sell its fumigating outfit and leave the field entirely to private enterprise.

The Western Water and Power Company have completed the removal of their large two-story office building to the business center of the town, which will be a great convenience to their customers and add much to the appearance of the business section of the town.

W. B. Glidden of Los Angeles, who recently purchased a thirty-acre orange orchard from the Needham ranch, has let the contract for the erection of a handsome ten-room house on his newly-acquired property.

Frank Bowen of Oklahoma has purchased a fine ten-acre orange grove just south of town of D. C. Hay; consideration $3000.

CATALINA ISLAND.

AMONG PLEASURE SEEKERS.

AVALON, July 30.—The heart of Pastor Chas. W. Williams of the Congregational Church is being made glad by the exceptionally large congregations which are filling his pews to overflowing. Prof. Braden from the Y.M.C.A., camp at White's Landing, participated in this morning's service and a number of the boys rowed up and were also in attendance. Rev. Harry Hillard of San Luis Obispo, who has been sojourning in the Canvas City for a month, and who preached last Sunday, leaves for home this week.

By far the gayest Saturday night of the season was last night. Each of the four boats arriving was crowded with week-enders and the available hostelry accommodations were taxed to care for the throng, which good-naturedly swept down and back through the streets seeking diversion at the band concert and the dancing pavilion.

Commodore C. C. Payne, a manufacturer of Cleveland, O., who makes an annual pilgrimage to Catalina to enjoy the fishing, arrived today.

R. H. Ingram joined his family here for over Sunday.

Luther G. Brown and Walter J. Trask left their signatures on the big book at the Metropole.

Mrs. Oberle and son joined Thomas Oberle, Belasco's leading actor, who has been here for a week.

Frank K. Wilson and wife and Miss Angel Mills were present at the Metropole hop.

Mrs. Minnie Worth of Los Angeles and Mrs. M. R. Duffin of San Francisco were passengers on the late boat.

Byron Erkenbrecher and wife, Miss A. B. Chase, Miss S. M. Burkhard, J. F. Burkhard, I. Wapple, D. Scott, and Thos. J. Hampton, came over yesterday afternoon on the crack yacht Detroit.

T. H. Oxnam of Chihuahua, Mexico, is again paying the island a visit.

Tom McNab and Norwood Howard were doing the gallant as of yore at the Metropole hop.

Congressman Marcus A. Smith is again at Hotel Metropole.

C. A. Bryant of the Pacific Electric Railway, conductor of the "Seeing California Bureau," is here with his brother W. F. Bryant, and nephew, C. T. McClelland, a Contra Costa county almond grower.

The usual Sunday afternoon game of water polo drew a large and interested audience, and furnished a fine entertainment for the crowds for an hour. Practically the same teams as last Sunday were engaged, the Avalon team winning by a score of 3 to 1. Avalon team—C. R. Cowan, W. S. Splittstoesser, Andrew Glassell, Barning Cleve, R. Long, Wm. Allen, Jr. Los Angeles team—W. Loomis, A. H. Splittstoesser, J. Keating, W. Watlington, Harry Cline, Jack Stephens.

A local golf tournament was played yesterday, drawing quite a number of the fair sex, none of whom were entered in the game, to the clubhouse. Following is the score:

E. L. Doran 39, T. S. Manning 40, Thos. Ryles 52, E. B. Smith 43, C. M. Goodall 50, H. J. Knowles 46, Wm. H. Burnham 44, S. S. Parsons 41, Ralph Burnham 43, A. C. Kendall 39, Dr. Manning 40, Casey Hayes 57.

DISCOVERED JUST IN TIME.

SAN PEDRO, July 30.—This morning about 2:45 o'clock Mrs. J. H. Rankin, residing on Palos and Fourth streets, was awakened by the barking of her dog and discovered fire in the room of an adjoining house. She immediately aroused her husband and a few of the neighbors and the blaze was soon extinguished with the aid of garden hose. Edward Osman had come home late and while attempting to light a broken lamp the cottage caught fire and the blaze began to spread rapidly. Paul Helsterman, rooming in the same building, rushed out in disbabile and burst open the door leading to the room where the fire originated and where Osman was found in a trembling condition and seemingly unable to make any effort to escape.

BIDS IN FOR NEW LIBRARY.

HANDSOME STRUCTURE WILL BE ERECTED AT COVINA.

Los Angeles Man the Lowest Bidder and Probably Will Secure Contract Which is to be Awarded This Week. Ample Space Provided for Eight Thousand Volumes.

COVINA, July 30.—Bids for the erection of the Andrew Carnegie library building for this city are now in the hands of the library board of trustees and the contract will be awarded during the present week. The estimates vary in cost from $7933 to $8300, the former being a bid from a Los Angeles contractor, W. J. Little, who will probably secure the work. The building will be 60x36 feet, consisting of basement, ground floor and attic. The basement will be used for storage purposes and the attic has been so arranged that with the growth of the library it will accommodate 8000 volumes. The main floor consists of library, reading and reference room, children's reading-room, ladies' retiring room, office and work room, and so arranged that the librarian at the desk will have complete supervision over the entire floor. The walls of the building will be of brick and the entire outside is to be plastered with cement mortar, tinted buff, and finished so as to imitate sandstone.

The death occurred early this morning at his home in Irwindale of J. H. Baughman, at the advanced age of 78. The funeral services will be held at the residence at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Charles E. Gauldin and Mrs. Effie Gauldin were married in Los Angeles yesterday. The groom is a member of the firm of Gauldin & Corbett. Mrs. Gauldin was formerly the wife of an elder brother, whose death occurred a little over a year ago.

The wedding is announced of Miss Brilla Wiley to George W. Van Vliet on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur Crabb, of No. 543 West Center street, Pomona. Both are well known throughout the valley, the prospective groom being the constable of Rowland township, the bride-to-be being a successful business woman of this city.

The residence of E. L. Vincent had a narrow escape from destruction from fire last evening. A curtain draped over a cupboard in the kitchen ignited from the cook stove and before the fire was discovered the flames were gaining considerable headway. The timely arrival of neighbors saved the house.

A RARE OLD-TIMER.

Daniel Tarbox Jewett, Born Ninety-eight Years Ago, Still Practicing Law.

[Kansas City Journal:] Daniel Tarbox Jewett is an old gentleman who looks to be his own junior by about thirty or forty years. If he lives until September year after next he will be 100. Think of that, a good, round hundred years! Yet he can do things that would stump many younger old men. For instance, he recently jumped on a moving car. Going inside he was addressed by a weasened and hoary party doubled over in the seat behind him, who said in a squeaky voice:

"Young man, when you get to be as old as I am you won't be so rash."

"Why, how old are you, anyway?" asked old man Jewett.

"Sixty-nine," replied the other.

"You're nothing but a kid," rejoined Mr. Jewett, "and you ought to learn more respect for your elders."

"Old Man," Jewett, by his useful and distinguished longevity, has fully earned the capitalized title, than which there could be no more honorable or higher prized. But he has had other great titles. He was United States Senator from Missouri by appointment of President Grant, and served in the interim prior to the election of Frank P. Blair. Among other distinctions Mr. Jewett is the oldest attorney in the United States. He goes to his office daily, climbing a flight of stairs.

Reflect upon these marvelous facts—he was born away back yonder about the time of the Louisiana Purchase, long before the battle of Waterloo. The nation was but a baby at the time Old Man Jewett was. New York was just a growing village; St. Louis not much more than a stockade and a store. He went to law school with Charles Sumner and Wendell Phillips. He knew Daniel Webster and heard him speak in Faneuil Hall. He has shaken hands with President John Quincy Adams. He fought lawsuits against "Abe" Lincoln when "Abe" was a fledgling.

Shipload of Babies.

The big American liner Haverford looked like a floating nursery as she bumped into her dock at the Washington avenue wharf this morning. In the cabins, on the decks and in the steerage the cries of infants arose above the din of engines and the clank of chains. There were Syrian babies and English babies, black, white, yellow and brown babies, just 189 in all.

The boarding officers hailed Capt. Neilson as he stood on the bridge. "Haverford ahoy! What are you carrying—babies and nursing bottles?"

"And up in arms they were the whole time over," said one of the cabin stewards. "Never did I sail with such a bawling, squalling cargo.

"We did not need the sirens while those kids were awake, and they never went to sleep together."—Philadelphia Dispatch to New York Sun.

THE CHUTES.

All Connected Therewith Deny the "Express" Story That Place Has Been Sold.

Who sold the Chutes?

The Express!

George Zobelein, the wealthy brewer, who is the biggest power behind the amusement park at Washington and Main, has never heard of any sale, although the Evening Express told about it on Saturday.

The local officials of the park, including Acting Manager Ferguson, have never heard of any such transaction—have never even seen the man to whom the deal is said to have gone.

The twilight journal, however, sold the lease and told all the particulars. The Chutes had been bought by the Golden State Realty Company, or by one Sol Davis, its agent, and it was propose to fix it up in great shape, a la Coney Island, Luna Park, Dreamland, or any other wonder-name that you might call along the pike.

As usual, the traditional "as it is in the East" could not be kept out; that's a necessary part of every Express story.

Treasurer-Manager Koch is on a northern vacation, and the president of the Los Angeles County Improvement Company—which is the Chutes financial name—is also away. He is ex-Senator "Corney" Pendleton.

In their absence, Mr. Zobelein, who is one of the biggest powers in the concern, spoke for them.

His remarks were simple and brief. "Ach Gott!" he exclaimed. "I have never heard a word of it!"

Ferguson, at the Chutes office, was puzzled as to the tale. "If people are going to buy us out," said he, "it's strange that the working staff would never hear anything about it, or that some sort of inspection of the properties wouldn't be made. The Express story is a new one on us."

DESPAIRING COUNTERFEITER.

Torn from His Family and Taken North—Quarrel Exposed Him.

Despairing but silent, J. B. Gregory, alias Harry Leonard, was taken North last night by deputy United States Marshals Hamilton and Taylor. The counterfeiter was torn away from his wife and family who have been distraught ever since his arrest last week.

Gregory was taken to McNeil's Island on Puget Sound whither he was bound from the Detroit House of Correction when he jumped out of the train window twelve years ago.

Gregory's wife, to whom he has been a good husband, during all that time, was the most broken-hearted woman in Los Angeles last night. It was through hasty words spoken in a quarrel and overheard by neighbors, that Gregory's arrest came about. He and his wife fell out some time ago and had a quarrel. In her temper, Mrs. Gregory threw up some of his past in Gregory's teeth. Neighbors overheard the words, which mentioned the fact that Gregory was an escaped convict. Gossip was brought to the ears of the police. Gregory's picture was looked up in the Rogue's Gallery and hurried trips were made to the corner on Winston and Main streets, where he kept his stand. This led to his immediate identification and arrest.

His wife and family will leave for her parents' home in the East this week.

Have You Met With Failure?

Many Men Have. Simply by Being Treated for Conditions They Did Not Have.

Experimenting is unsuccessful. It is experience that is necessary to accomplish good results. To know the cause and to be able to treat the condition scientifically, prompt and complete cures can be effected.

I CURE MEN

SOUNDLY AND COMPLETELY

In functional derangement of the reproductive system my treatment restores perfect physiological conditions and health throughout the organic system.

In some cases the cause has spent its force, and the evil effects remain in a chronic form. No other treatment to my knowledge will accomplish like results. I permanently remove the cause of weakness, and in less time than is usually required to give temporary relief.

MY TREATMENT

For contracted diseases, Stricture, Urethral and Bladder Troubles is the most effective, cleanly and perfect known. I remove all soreness, inflammation and every vestige of poison from the system.

I CURE VARICOCELE
In Four to Six Days

The treatment is painless and the cure is complete. Also Rectal, Kidney, Wasting, Nervous Conditions, the result of functional derangement.

Convulsion, Fits, then Epilepsy.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine has been so successful in curing these brain-wrecking diseases that there is every reason to believe that even the most hopeless cases can be benefited, if not fully restored.

We will be pleased to refer any one thus afflicted to many who now enjoy the blessing of health, after years of hopeless suffering.

"I have a son that had brain fever when two years old, followed by fits of the worst type, and he was pronounced incurable. I spent hundreds of dollars for him, without relief. After about fifteen years he became so bad that we sent him to Longcliff hospital for the insane, at Logansport, Ind. He was there nearly three years, but he continued to grow worse, so we brought him home July 20, 1902, in an awful condition. He had lost his mind almost entirely. He hardly knew one of the family; could not even find his bed; was a total wreck. He had from 5 to 10 fits a day. We were urged to try Dr. Miles' Nervine, and before the first bottle was used, we could see a change for the better. We have given it to him ever since, and he has had but two very light spells since last August, 1903, and then he was not well other ways. We pronounce him cured, as he can work and go anywhere. If any one wishes to ask any questions concerning this, they are at liberty to do so."

May Pave Suburban Street.

A plan is on foot to secure the paving of North St. Louis street from First street to Brooklyn avenue. Dr. Ernest Allin is erecting a handsome two-story residence on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and St. Louis street, and several other large residences are to be built on the latter thoroughfare. Should the plans for paving mature, this will become one of the prettiest residence streets in Boyle Heights.

Dr. Phineas F. Bresee, General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, has returned from a visitation to the churches at Portland, Seattle and other northern points. On Thursday of this week he will organize a Church of the Nazarene at Pomona, and next week he will depart for a visitation to the churches in the Middle West. It is expected that the General Assembly, always heretofore held in Los Angeles, will this year be held in Illinois.

Broken Head.

Liquor on Sunday earned a broken head for M. Senters of No. 145 San Pedro street. A. D. Johnson, who did breaking with a large rock, landed in jail, charged with battery, but he was let out on $25 bail. Senters and Johnson got into a drunken brawl. Senters was getting the better of his opponent, when Johnson broke away from him, picked up a rock and did considerable damage to Senters head. Senters was brought in to the Receiving Hospital and Johnson was later gathered in by Officer McGraw.

TALKS WITH TRAVELERS.

A graphic story of the terrible heat wave in the East and its effects has been brought back to Los Angeles by Edmond S. Shank, local realty dealer. Mr. Shank was in Chicago during most of the torrid spell, and made personal observations of human suffering in the poorer districts.

Said he, yesterday afternoon: "The people, gathered in the Chicago streets, edged with blistered feet from sidewalk to sidewalk, and the children, with parted lips, panted like breathless dogs. This is no exaggeration—it seemed to me at times as if some of the babies that I saw must positively die for oxygen, there was so little of it in the air.

"And the worst of these days passed over in clouds, when no ray of sunshine came down through the thick gray sky, and all the air seemed turned into the heat of a furnace. In the tenement quarters one could see scores of young children naked in the hallways and alleys, crawling along the floors or pavements in a vain attempt for coolness. Women, old and young, went about with a single thin garment between their bodies and the outside world, and often that stuck to them like plaster from the perspiration.

"The most remarkable sights were to be witnessed at night. Lincoln Park, as anyone familiar with present-day Chicago is aware, now extends far down from its original lines, and takes up a vast extension of territory, with lakes, lagoons and fountains. Both Lincoln and Jackson parks at night were crowded with people. Men and women alike, with all their clothing on were to be seen wading into the water, rolling over in it, immersing themselves, and then coming out again to lie on the grass and steam. In the daytime the fountains and shallow lakes were full of children, playing without let or hindrance in the warm liquid.

"Formerly the Illinois Central tracks on the Lake Front, were close to the water, so that people living in the vicinity were in easy reach of the lake. Now the railroad has built its great extensions and jettys more than a mile out into the body of the lake itself, and hundreds of yards of former frontage have been made into solid earth.

"Neither day nor night brought any alleviation of the fearful conditions. The temperature remained practically the same during the whole round of the twenty-four hours. People fought and struggled at night to get vantage points outdoors, and the sufferings of the sick were too pitiful to think about, even in homes of wealth and means, where all the ordinary comforts could be brought them.

"I lived in a hotel supposedly cool, but the only way by which I could find any sleep was to immerse myself for an hour at a time in my bathtub, and then, dripping wet, throw myself onto the sheet-covered mattress, and finally sink into an unquiet slumber during the consequent evaporation. When I awoke I would be in a perspiration, and if I wanted to go to sleep again I would have to repeat the process.

"A party of us finally decided, as a desperate measure, to take a whaleback trip to Milwaukee. There was a swarming crowd on the boat, and the only breath of air to be had at all was forward on the top of the pilot-house. Two yards away from there, the air was as dead and stagnant as it was on shore. Women fainted everywhere, and it was almost impossible to get a moment of comfort on the ship.

"But the funny part is, that a Californian talking to these poor sufferers is always met with a pitying smile, and a look of happy resignation.

"'It's bad enough here,' they say, 'we often think of what you poor people must suffer in Southern California!'"

DECISION IN THREE WEEKS.

It has been expected that a decision would be rendered today in the cases against the various officials of the electric car lines for alleged violation of their franchises in that they have been doing a freight carrying business through the city. The cases were heard nearly two weeks ago by Justice Rose in the Police Court upon complaints filed by the city, and were taken under advisement, the counsel for the city being given time in which to prepare briefs. These briefs have not as yet been submitted to the court and therefore it has been impossible for Justice Rose to examine into the authorities submitted to him. It is expected that the decision will be rendered August 21. Justice Rose, because of an attack of malarial fever, has been obliged to turn a portion of his court business over to Justice Chambers.
